

GRAND OLD WARRIOR FADING BUT HE KEEPS SNORTING BACK

By ALAN HARVEY

LONDON (CP) — Sir Winston Churchill was described today as "restored to health" after an indisposition.

His secretary, Anthony Montagu-Browne, told a reporter:

"He's better now. He's all right. I'm afraid I can't give you any more details than that."

Obviously, age is beginning to tell on the old warrior. He will be 85 on his next birthday, Nov. 30. He is almost completely deaf and he gets about with some difficulty.

But the powerful will that has often triumphed over frailties of the body keeps driving him, and he makes occasional appearances in the House of Commons.

Conservative members take turns in sitting beside him to let him know who is speaking. Sometimes he doesn't remember people he has known for some time, though he recalls old friends almost as if by force of habit.

A man who sees him frequently said: "He is a very old man. He is really older than his years, when you think of all he has been through. It's all rather pathetic."

As far as is known, Sir Winston is not under treatment for any specific physical complaint.

"It's just Anno Domini," said one of Sir Winston's friends. "The old engine is wearing down. One doesn't like to think about it."

Sir Winston's willpower has often astounded those around him. Field Marshal Viscount Alanbrooke in his war memoirs, recently published, tells how he sometimes despaired of Churchill, finding him "old" and not able to give sustained attention to some topics. But he had great recuperative capacity.

There have been reports that Sir Winston has suffered one or two relapses in the last five years. He always comes back strongly, snorting furiously at those who want him to take things more easily.

He still makes public appearances. He spoke in the Oct. 8 election campaign in his riding of Woodford, Essex, and he attended old-boys' night at his old public school, Harrow.

Within the last two or three days, he has seen Lord Beaverbrook, an old friend from First World War days.

It is believed he has stopped writing.

Sir Winston was well enough Wednesday to entertain Konrad Adenauer.

The two octogenarians drank champagne.

TIMES EDITOR RETURNS FROM FAR EAST TOUR

Times editor Bruce Hutchison, who has spent a month touring Japan at the invitation of the Japanese government, returned to Victoria Wednesday night following a direct Tokyo-Vancouver flight on Canadian Pacific Airlines.

Mr. Hutchison, accompanied by Mrs. Hutchison, also visited Hong Kong and Formosa.

His recent articles on the social aspects of his trip will be followed shortly by a series on the trade and political situation between Canada and Japan and the power strategy of Eastern Asia.

CCF 'Maverick' Free to Snipe

Burnaby CCF MLA Cedric Cox can "say what he likes and think what he likes" without censure by party leadership, provincial party leader Robert Strachan said today.

U.N. DEBATE ON HUNGARY

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — The General Assembly's steering committee was summoned today to meet Monday to decide on a new and full airing of the 1956 Hungarian revolution and its bloody suppression by the Soviet Army.

Diplomatic sources said it was a foregone conclusion that the steering committee would vote to put the Hungarian issue on the assembly's agenda, with only the Soviet bloc opposing the move.

NATO Chiefs Hope to Slow Soviet Drive

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The NATO parliamentarians conference unanimously approved today proposals aimed at countering the Soviet economic offensive and shoring up the free world's military unity.

Delegates from parliamentary bodies of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization adopted an economic program highlighted by a call for stepped-up aid to underdeveloped countries.

A group of resolutions proposed by a military committee were adopted, including one calling for a centralized system of aircraft detection and identification in Europe as "a matter of extreme urgency."

Merger Sure to Fail Claims Liberal Chief

CRESTON, B.C. (CP) — Liberal leader Ray Perrault told a public meeting here Wednesday that a plan to "have union members pay most of the bills for CCF candidates in the next provincial election is sure to fail."

Mr. Perrault said the plan was "engineered by a minority group of politically-ambitious trade union leaders and key men in CCF leadership."

He read letters which he claimed were from unionists who were opposed to financial support of the CCF.

He was commenting from Kelowna, where he is attending a B.C. Federation of Labor seminar, on reports that the CCF provincial executive would "investigate" recent remarks by Mr. Cox.

Mr. Cox said at Trail that the proposed new-Labor-CCF party was "ill-conceived" and actually was opposed by 40 per cent of the current CCF membership.

Later, Mrs. Grace MacInnis, provincial president of the party, said the report of the remarks would be investigated.

FREE CITIZEN

"I don't know what is meant by 'investigate,'" said Mr. Strachan. "Naturally, the provincial executive is interested in what its members say."

"But Mr. Cox is a free citizen and he can say what he likes. The CCF would be the last group in the world to want to impose its thinking on any other person."

Mr. Strachan added, "In any democratic party, there is bound to be a difference of opinion when a proposal for reorganization comes up. But I think Mr. Cox completely misunderstands the true situation."

Mr. Cox has stated he felt it was doubtful the new party would succeed in its formation and he added:

"The only reason for this new party is that a lot of labor men are looking around for new ways to exercise some power."

Mrs. MacInnis expressed shock at Mr. Cox's "outburst." She said to oppose the new party is a case of "backward thinking."

Bill Buck, former president of the B.C. Federation of Labor (CLC), said Mr. Cox doesn't know that he is talking about.

S.A. Mediator Canada Role?

OTTAWA (CP) — Sydney Williams, executive secretary of the Canadian Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said today he is convinced the Canadian government plans to offer itself as a mediator in South Africa's racial problems.

Adenauer Agrees Summit Should Discuss Germany

WIRE BRIEFS

Bank Rate Up

OTTAWA (CP) — The Bank of Canada interest rate moved upwards today to 5.16 per cent from 5.13 last week with the sale of $100,000,000 in 91-day government treasury bills.

Chou Visit Vetoed

LONDON (Reuters) — Prime Minister Macmillan today rejected a suggestion that Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai visit Britain at the present time.

Lava Spouts High

HILLO, Hawaii (UPI) — Lava in the Kilauea Iki crater today spouted 700 feet in the air, a record height for the current eruption, and wind-blown pumice set brush fires outside the crater.

Toure Goes to Moscow

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Sekou Toure, president of Guinea, left here today by air for Moscow after a four-day visit to West Germany.

NATO Cuts By France

PARIS (UPI) — The National Assembly adopted by voice vote today a 1960 military budget which indicated a possible further cut in French contributions to NATO forces in central Europe.

LONDON — West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today conceded that the German problem — and within it a Berlin settlement — could be discussed at an East-West summit conference.

He addressed a crowded press conference here before flying back to Bonn at the end of a three-day visit.

Before his series of talks with Prime Minister Macmillan, Adenauer was reported opposed to discussing Berlin at the summit. Macmillan believes it should be a major item at the conference.

The 83-year-old chancellor said the summit conference should certainly discuss self-determination for Communist East Germany.

PROBLEMS LINKED

Asked if he meant to exclude a Berlin agreement at the summit, Adenauer replied: "I did not mean that. I only meant that the final solution of the Berlin problem is intimately connected with the German problem as a whole."

He also announced he and Macmillan are in "complete agreement on the political aspects of disarmament."

The chancellor received a rousing send-off at London's Victoria station on his way by train to Gatwick airport outside the metropolis.

A crowd of 300 cheered repeatedly as he was seen off by Macmillan and other British officials.

They also agreed, he said, that the present economic divisions in Europe must "in no economic circumstances" be allowed to lead to a trade war "which would be in sharp conflict with everything that has been done in recent years for the unification of a free western Europe and a free world."

Aside from any concrete decisions reached at the conference table, the chief achievement of the 83-year-old chancellor's visit was considered to be the end of cool relations between the two countries.

LAW NEEDED?

Ex-GM Boss Grieves Loss Of Friend

FLINT, Mich. (UPI) — Harlow H. Curtice, tired-looking and grief-stricken, said today uneven ground "might have caused the 'tragic accident' in which he shot and killed his 'very dear friend' retired GM vice-president Harry W. Anderson.

Curtice, who looked as if he had not slept at all since the accident Wednesday, said Anderson might have lost his footing on the uneven ground in their duck blind and lurched directly into Curtice's line of fire.

He said this was the eighth annual trip to the St. Anne Island duck-shooting preserve for him and Anderson.

The former GM president suggested that a law might be passed permitting only one gun in any hunting blind as a means of preventing another such tragedy.

Curtice said he had hunted many times over the past 20 years.

He said there had never been an accident in any hunting party of which he was a member.

He said he had been a "very close friend and associate of Anderson for more than a quarter of a century and Mrs. Curtice is at Ann Arbor today with Mrs. Anderson."

PITTSBURGH — The U.S. major steel companies announced a new proposal for settlement of their bitter contract dispute with the United Steelworkers today, but the union promptly rejected it.

The USW action virtually doomed voluntary settlement of the history-making controversy during the 80-day truce ordered by the U.S. Supreme Court in the 116-day walkout of 500,000 USW members.

The companies proposed an economic package which it estimated would cost them 30 cents an hour per man over a three-year period.

They coupled it with a plan of negotiation and arbitration for settlement of the thorny local working conditions issue, which appeared the chief stumbling block in the road of settlement.

The union in a formal statement said the industry proposal was made Nov. 15 and turned down the same day.

The new proposal, the union said, represents virtually no change from the proposition the company made last Oct. 17. That offer was rejected by the full wage policy committee.

The union estimated the latest offer as being worth about 24 cents an hour over the three-year period. It estimated the previous offer at 23.8 cents an hour.

In disclosing the latest offer, R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry negotiator, said in a prepared statement:

"The proposal is a fair offer to do what can be done and still keep within non-inflationary bounds in the cost of steel production."

The union statement said: "The only difference between this latest company offer and the earlier offers is a small pension improvement which the union estimates is worth less than one-third of one cent."

Referring to the industry's proposals on local work conditions, the union said the latest offer is the "same old attempt to deprive steelworkers of hard-won gains and protections."

The statement continued: "... They still are insisting upon a one-sided and unfair arbitration designed to permit them unilaterally to eliminate jobs and benefits won by the steelworkers in their contracts for many years."

"The only changes are a 'stay' of the sentence until June, 1960, and some additional language which makes it clear that even before that their objective is to eliminate jobs and workers..."

SANTA GOOFED PRINCESS FOR REAL

LONDON (AP) — "And what is your name?" the afternoon Santa Claus at a London store asked the curly-haired little girl before him Wednesday.

"Princess Anne," she replied.

"Oh, yes," boomed Santa in his good-natured voice, "and I'm Father Christmas."

Five seconds went by before Santa realized he had goofed.

the name and title had just fallen mechanically on his tired ears.

"Of course you are," said the nine-year-old Princess, ending the embarrassing silence.

Santa recovered and asked her what she wanted for Christmas.

Anne stood on tiptoe and detailed her requirements into Santa's ear.

Santa nodded and said "I'll see what I can do."

BABY ROCKS THE CLUB

'I Say, Chaps...'

CHICAGO (AP) — A red-haired baby girl was born Wednesday in the Union League Club, an ultra-conservative men's retreat which women may enter only if accompanied by their husbands. It never happened before in the club's 80-year history.

The event was set in motion Monday when Robert F. Doyle, 44, and his wife, Helen, 42, travelled from their home in Loves Park, a suburb of Rockford, Ill., to Passavant Hospital in Chicago for the expected arrival of their seventh child.

"The doctor said it wasn't time," Doyle recalled. "My wife went back Tuesday. 'Come back Wednesday,' the doctor said."

So Doyle, president of a Consumer Finance Company and a club member, took his wife to the Union League Club Tuesday night.

It happened as the Doyles were leisurely dressing Wednesday morning. They had ordered breakfast in their room.

"When the waiter came, it already was too late," Doyle said.

"You read about things like this and you're supposed to do them," Doyle said. "I guess I did. My wife kept giving me instructions. I whacked the baby on the back, she cried, and I knew everything was all right."

Mother and daughter were taken by ambulance to the hospital where both are doing fine. Doyle thinks he may name the newcomer Calamity.

HARLOW CURTICE
... kills friend

... stood up suddenly

WALPOLE ISLAND, Ont. (CP)—Harry W. Anderson, a rugged six-footer who directed many tough labor negotiations before retiring as a General Motors vice-president, was killed by a shotgun blast Wednesday in a hunting accident.

It was fired by long-time friend and retired GM president Harlow H. Curtice as the two were in a duck blind on this Ontario Indian reservation at the mouth of the St. Clair River.

Appearing shocked and exhausted, Mr. Curtice was later driven to Ann Arbor, Mich., to express his sorrow to Mrs. Anderson.

"DEEPLY GRIEVED"

"I am deeply grieved," he told friends. "Harry Anderson was my dear friend for many years."

Mr. Anderson, 67, retired as GM's vice-president for personnel at the end of 1956.

He was in charge of the company's labor relations through a 119-day strike in 1945-46 and later negotiated contracts giving the United Auto Workers cost-of-living increases and annual wage boosts based on a formula of increased productivity.

Scene of the shooting was St. Anne Island where the river, which separates Ontario from Michigan, flows into Lake St. Clair. It is one of the province's top duck-hunting spots and has many private clubs and lodges.

ROSE SUDDENLY

Police said both men prepared to fire as a flock of ducks flew towards their blind and that Mr. Anderson stood up suddenly as Mr. Curtice pulled the trigger.

The 12-gauge shotgun blast caught him on the right side of the head.

The shooting happened about 11 a.m. but police first learned of it when the body was brought to the mainland in mid-afternoon.

Provincial police Constable Bud Collins of Sombra, Ont., investigated the fatality and took a brief statement before Mr. Curtice returned to Michigan.

The two men, frequent hunting and fishing companions, were staying at St. Anne's Hunting Club.

ATOM WASTE 'POISONING' SEA WATER

MONTE CARLO (Reuters)—A Russian scientist Wednesday charged that the United States and Britain are poisoning "great masses of water" by dumping radioactive wastes into the sea.

Professor Victor Spitzine told a press conference "some countries" are afraid to spend enough money on safer methods of disposing of radioactive waste material.

Spitzine is one of 300 experts attending a six-day international conference here on the disposal of radioactive wastes.

Russia isolates her wastes in cement or glass and buries them "in the middle of vast open spaces, only a few yards below the soil, where they can be controlled," Spitzine said.

He said this method is expensive. "But Soviet scientists have no worry about such matters," he said. "We have unlimited credit for this type of thing. That is our secret."

'Nothing Ever Seemed to Succeed'

LONDON (UPI)—"What ever the place and whatever the company, the choice is ours, and no one, I believe, has the right to prevent a man seeking whom and what he chooses."

The words are those of Group Capt. Peter Townsend in his book "Earth: My Friend," the story of his travels around the world to forget a romance that could not be. It was published today.

Townsend did not refer once to Princess Margaret by name in the story, but he said he began his trip because "nothing I laid my hands and my heart to ever seemed to succeed."

"I went out into the world with no particular mission, not knowing what I should find but with a feeling I should find something; and I believe

I did find something that is worthwhile to me."

In the book it was clear the memory of Princess Margaret burned deep in his heart. One British critic said: "There is a cold wind of melancholy over the beginning."

ACROSS THE PROVINCE

Court Rejects Firemen's Bid

(Compiled From CP)

VANCOUVER — Firemen Wednesday lost the first round in a battle against a New Westminster city council order that they must work as part-time traffic control officers.

Mr. Justice H. A. MacLean of the British Columbia Supreme Court refused to grant a local of the International Association of Fire Fighters (CLC) an injunction restraining the city from training and using firemen for the special duties.

Mr. Justice MacLean said he would "do all possible to expedite a trial" of an action started against the city by the union.

The union is suing the city for damages for allegedly breaking a working agreement by failing to notify it of the additional duties which would be imposed on its members.

Harry Spring, counsel for the union, said using firemen for traffic control duties would endanger life and property. He said it would delay firemen in the course of their normal duties.

Peter Hutton, counsel for the city, argued there was no breach of contract with the firemen's union because the agreement doesn't contain a clause which limits their duties.

RANCHERS ASK HELP

KAMLOOPS — The British Columbia Cattle Growers' Association has asked agriculture minister Steacy to investigate the plight of Cariboo and Chilcotin ranchers, hit by losses of winter feed as a result of heavy summer rains at harvest and early frosts. Julian Fry, secretary, said ranchers in this area have suffered "critical" losses.

MAN FEARED DROWNED

PRINCE GEORGE — A 70-year-old man missing for more than two weeks from his cabin in South Fort George may have drowned in the Fraser River, police said Wednesday.

Walter Mitchell disappeared early this month from his cabin near the river. His hat was found on the river bank, but a search of the bank by RCMP turned up no further clues.

Police said there is reason to believe that Mitchell may have drowned while under the influence of alcohol.

TORY CANDIDATES

VANCOUVER — The Progressive Conservative party Wednesday night nominated four candidates to run in Vancouver ridings in the next provincial election.

Among them was lawyer David Sturdy, a key figure in the So-mers bribery-conspiracy case. Mr. Sturdy was nominated in Vancouver-Burrard.

He failed in a bid last July to gain nomination as a Conservative candidate in Vancouver Point Grey.

Also named as candidate in the two-seat Burrard riding was Douglas V. Manley, a city engineer.

Nominated as Conservative candidates in Vancouver East were lawyer Norman Dent and assistant fire chief William Bradshaw.

What's the Deal?

THE NEWS COLUMNS OF THE Times over the past few days have carried a series of articles on hydro-power development in British Columbia. Of particular interest to the people of this province were the references to the plans of the Peace River Power Development Company—the familiar Wenner-Gren scheme—for although the articles answered some questions they left unanswered a good many important ones on this aspect of our future.

Two especially weak points in the Wenner-Gren scheme will have struck every reader immediately—the matter of costs and the matter of markets. These fundamental factors in any business venture have never been satisfactorily explained to the people of this province, either by Peace River Power spokesmen or by their sponsor, Premier Bennett.

We have received airy assurances of reasonable prices, vague allusions to British Columbia's ultimate need for all the power to be generated on the Peace. But the series made two things clear: Company predictions of the cost of power delivered to the lower mainland have been made without any definite idea of the cost of transmission over 650 miles of very rough country—one of the longest hauls in the world; and there is every indication that the company is trying to export power to the United States.

Until more accurate estimates are possible, costs of Peace River power can only be a matter of guesswork. Six mills has been mentioned as the cost delivered in Vancouver. Experts have placed Peace power costs at two to four mills more than those on the Columbia.

One expert indicated power would be offered to the United States for about five mills—which leaves a strong suspicion that Canadian consumers would be called upon to pay more and hence subsidize the export sales—if exports were permitted.

Much remains to be cleared up about the crucial point of cost. If Mr. Bennett and the company promoters know the answer they are keeping it to themselves. The public can only wonder why.

The matter of exports is even more mysterious. This page recently carried several articles discussing Canada's history in regard to export sales of hydro power. It was made clear that, once started, it is almost impossible to halt such a flow of power. Even when the contract specifies a termination date, or sales are made on a year-to-year basis, it has proved impossible to cut off the flow. The reason is that it involves high state policy if foreign homes and industries, after several years of using Canadian electricity, are suddenly cut off and left in the dark.

The U.S. has made it very clear in the past that this would be considered an unfriendly act. Even when Ontario experienced a serious shortage of power for the war effort during the First Great War, it was unable to halt so-called "temporary" exports of power to New York State.

Successive governments of Canada have been faced with this blunt fact. They have therefore supported legislation curbing the sale of electric power across the border—and such legislation came in very handy two years ago in halting Premier Bennett's plans to sell proposed Arrow Lakes power to the Kaiser interests in the United States.

Against this background, then, the Peace River development interests have already begun a clamor to export power. The initial units of the proposed power development will produce more than British Columbia can immediately use. Succeeding units will likewise produce more than can be absorbed domestically at the time. Eventually, of course, this province will need all the power available and more; but that is a matter for the far future.

Mr. A. Bruce Robertson, a vice-president of the B.C. Electric, told an Ottawa committee that "the sale of energy for export is a very important part of this project."

Mr. W. C. Mainwaring, president of the Peace River company, said a federal tax on exported power would have "a very serious effect on our being able to finance it all."

Mr. A. E. Grauer, president of the B.C. Electric, said contemplated export sales were in the category of "500,000 kilowatts for 15 years."

Remembering the federal policy of refusing to permit power exports and reading such authoritative statements regarding company intentions, the layman is left wondering what is going on that he doesn't know about. He reads the continually optimistic statements of Peace River company spokesmen and of Mr. Bennett, and he finds it difficult to reconcile them with such facts as have been made public.

Before the end of this year the company must file its plan with the Provincial Government. Mr. Bennett has promised quick action on it, so that work on the vast project can get under way.

What the public wants to know is whether the Peace River high-cost and surplus-power scheme is going to be pushed ahead to the detriment of the low-cost power to be obtained from joint Canadian-American development of the Columbia—a plan now nearing agreement between the two nations.

Will the country be saddled with expensive power and forced by a pressure-play into exporting large blocs to the United States, never to be regained even when we need it?

If the Wenner-Gren deal is Mr. Bennett's big bid for support in the next election, small wonder he is in no hurry to go to the country.

Put Up Or Shut Up

ALDERMAN ARTHUR DOWELL has acted promptly in challenging mayoralty candidate J. Donald Smith to "put up or shut up" on the veiled insinuations uttered at a campaign meeting last week.

Ex-alderman Smith made a reference to "suspicious land deals" at city hall. Alderman Dowell, as chairman of the lands committee for the past six years, quite properly interpreted the remark as an innuendo against his stewardship. He challenged Smith to come before council with firm accusations and promised a full inquiry if there proved to be any substance in the remarks.

This is not the first time that

Smith has resorted to such tactics. Not long ago he issued a pamphlet in which he pointed to the defections of the mayors of Calgary and Edmonton. Why was this done? The only reasonable interpretation that can be placed on such a reference was the sly inference that such malfeasance might exist here.

Voters may expect more of the same from the candidate, who modestly describes himself in the same bulletin as one of B.C.'s most successful businessmen, a family man, and a paragon of all the virtues. But smears, innuendos and insinuations can be stopped by the facts. It is now Mr. Smith's clear duty to appear before the council to substantiate his charges.

Still a Wide Gulf

THE OPTIMISTIC REPORTS OF travellers returning from Russia in recent months had raised hopes that a greater understanding might be evolving between the peoples of the Soviet Union and the West. The horns and hooves of the Soviet citizen lost the reality which rumor and speculation had given them. Although his way of life did not appear admirable to us, there were aspects of it which we could recognize as providing a common ground. It was hoped that he too, was becoming better informed.

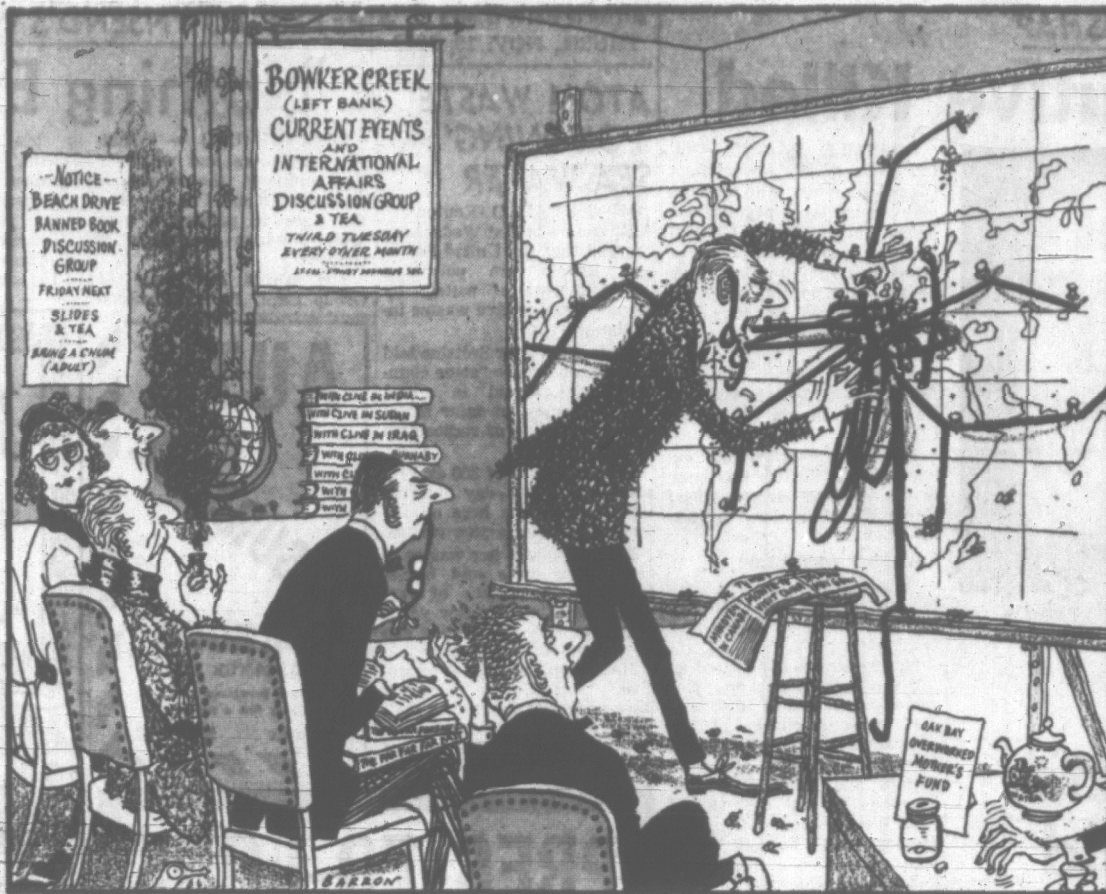

Now comes a report which seems to reverse the trend. An American student who has completed 18 months in Russia says that it is still very difficult to "get through" to the Russian individual; Soviet students fraternizing with Western students may find themselves dropped from their classes.

But above all, there is great difficulty in convincing Russians that their ideas of the West may be wrong. Throughout their lives they have been taught that the West is imperialistic, war-mongering and decadent, that it will die of its inherent iniquities. Even though these ideas are not the official Soviet doctrines in this period following the Khrushchev visit, they are still deeply ingrained in the Russian people.

This, at any rate, is the first-hand impression of a student who has spent much longer with the Russians than the 10-day-tour visitors who journeyed to Moscow during the past summer.

Personal feelings may have colored this witness' conclusions, but it is evident that, even if he is only partly right, there is a tremendous job of communication to be done. There can be little real co-operation between two societies when one believes that the other is dying and deserves to die.

"... it's simple really... Mikoyan is in Mexico, Adenauer's in England... Khrushchev is going to France, Eisenhower's going to Europe, Asia and so on... Monty may go to China... now with Macmillan leaving for Africa in January we can safely predict..."

British Trade Unions and Politics

The following article on the relationship between the British Labor party and the trade unions is of interest in view of the new CCF-Labor party proposal for Canada.

ACCUMULATED public irritation at the less pleasing aspects of trade unionism was probably the most important single factor working against Labor in the general election. But the Labor party is a very conservative institution, steeped in its own traditions, and whatever damage the trade union connection may have caused last month it will not be broken.

Financial dependence is not the only reason for this, though cynics may say otherwise. Last year the unions provided the party with £209,000 towards its general fund, three-quarters of the total, but there is more to their mutual loyalty than pence, more even than the filial gratitude owed by the politicians to their parent bodies.

Still Responsible

The truth is that the two groups are so identified in the public mind by their histories, and by their common personnel and policies, that Labor would not be able to shrug off responsibility for the actions of the trade unions in the foreseeable future, even if, having found new reservoirs of money, it allowed the formal link to be broken.

In public life the inequities of fathers and children are visited on each other for a long time. Yet the Labor party cannot meekly accept the unpopularity of the unions as a cross it must bear through life.

If Labor is ever to form a government again, two things must happen: the unions must be persuaded to make themselves more attractive to the public, as well as to the millions of trade unionists and their families who voted Conservative last month; and the party must show that the Old Boy network of the Left does not prevent its speaking out when necessary, even if union susceptibilities are wounded in the process.

The Trades Union Congress inquiry into shop stewards who express their independence by "going it alone" is only a small beginning to the huge task of erasing the unfavorable impression made on the public by the lunacies of years.

The trade union movement could recapture the sympathy it once enjoyed as champion of the underdog if it would undertake internally one piece of practical socialism—evolve a system to establish some priority for the poorer workers when wage increases are being negotiated.

There must also be less of the Pharisee and more of the Good Samaritan, a willingness to reason with the non-unionist—as Mr. Cousins eloquently argued in July—rather than a determination to persecute him.

The greatest liability imposed on Labor by the union link, however, is the impression that the party is more interested in the citizen as worker than as consumer.

Yet it is when he is "on the outside"—as customer in a shop, client of an estate agent, or passenger in a train or bus—that the prosperous industrial worker, as well as his neighbor in the older middle classes, may now feel his greatest need of protection.

The Conservatives, who are quick to champion the victim of nationalized inefficiency or unfairness, have their own inhibitions about similar complaints in the private sector, but Labor has never seemed willing to shine by contrast.

Consumer Ignored

Perhaps a Labor Government would have done all the things about monopolies and prices which its pre-election "Plan for Progress" sketched out. But in opposition Labor has never emerged as the champion of the consumer. It has dealt neither fully nor frankly enough with day-to-day complaints.

It has seemed to hesitate before launching itself either at private enterprise shop-fronts or nationalized-railway barriers, fearing the corns of its union brethren might get trampled in the attack.

For years Labor has not shown the interest in services and prices to be expected of a party seeking to help working people. Who would guess from political speeches that there were grievances in railway dining cars before the strike was ever thought of, grievances felt by the second-class, non-expense-account passenger who has never paid nine or ten shillings for a meal in his life, and really wants a high tea of eggs (two) and chips" for about half that price? Is there no one to speak for him?

The same silence or near-silence covers larger issues. If half the enthusiasm concentrated on economic dogmatism had been spent in understanding what the public, as consumers, want, and attacking monopolistic and restrictive practices on the owners' side of industry, Labor would have won many new admirers.

Again, these are not popular fields because the party is inhibited by the trade union connection. It is too conscious of the beams in its own eyes—inflationary wage claims and indefensible demarcation behavior, for example—to go on an industrial crusade on behalf of consumers.

Mealy-Mouthed

The frightening thing is that pandering to the unions' feelings has now become a conditioned reflex in the Labor Party.

Why is Labor so mealy-mouthed in anything which concerns the unions, directly or remotely?

The short answer is the block vote, which controls policy decisions at the party conference and seventeen of the 28 places on the National Executive Committee, and had a vital influence in the selection of the candidates in 93 of the 258 seats which Labor holds in Parliament.

The block vote is based on the political levy of 9d a year paid to the Labor party by trade unionists' who do not "opt out." Many of them scarcely remember that it is included in their union subscriptions, and the overwhelming majority take no active part in Labor politics.

Yet on an analogy with the principle of "no taxation without representation," those 5,627,690 ninespences allow a comparatively small group of men at the top of each union to exercise at least a negative control on the Labor party.

FROM OTTAWA:

No Smoking Allowed

By VICTOR MACKIE

PRIME Minister Diefenbaker set a new style for cocktail parties in the capital city last summer. He served only tea and coffee. Now he has imposed another new rule, this time applying to the cabinet. It is a no-smoking rule for cabinet meetings. He has had the Privy Council chamber cleared of ash trays. Perhaps when air-conditioning is installed and operating in the cabinet room next summer smoking by the cabinet ministers might be again permitted. But at present it is taboo. Former Prime Minister King imposed a similar ban on smoking in cabinet meetings.

Reality

On his way to the cabinet the morning after his return from abroad Mr. Green was stopped by reporters. "Back to reality eh?" said one with a smile. "You call this reality?" snapped back Mr. Green with a grin.

Printing Bureau

Shades of the printing bureau probe. The Conservatives launched a committee investigation of the costly printing bureau in Hull across the Ottawa River from the capital city. They concluded there was too much waste and extravagance in its construction. The other day the United States public printer visited the plant. He came away with the comment: "It's one of the finest printing plants I've ever seen. I only wish we had had the architect for some of our plants." He described himself as charmed by the plant's design, and surprised at the efficiency of its operation.

Repercussions

The Government's rejection of the civil servants' request for higher salaries has had continuing repercussions. Conservative MPs seeking to speak at meetings of Government workers have been booted. Civil servants' organizations have had some harsh things to say. Latest is from the Professional Institute of the Public Service. Its president wrote in the institute's official publication that the Government's action marked the "demise of its good employer policy."

Professional

There is a need for more professional politicians in the opinion of Gowan Guest, executive assistant to Prime Minister Diefenbaker. In a public speech recently he said, "Politics in the modern world is becoming a more complex and difficult field to master than ever before. Politics is becoming more and more a full time occupation for full time career men, trained and skilled in their work."

MARKED FOR READING

WHO ARE 'THE PEOPLE'?

"Democracy" means in English what it meant in the Greek from which it is translated, "the rule of the people." The difficulty lies in giving a true and clear account of what "the rule of the people" entails. It seems to me that the biggest mistake made in this connection is to assume that "the rule of the people" means "the rule of the majority." The expression "the people" does not mean "some people" or "most people," but the "people as a whole," and this necessarily includes the minority as well as the majority. Hence if the minority has no share in ruling, a system cannot properly be considered a democratic one.

—Maurice Cranston on the BBC.

In the Opinion of Our Correspondents

Leave It to Mother

When I read Dorothy Abraham's letter I was glad to realize there are still some freedom-loving Canadians.

I presume that to prevent tooth decay the child should absorb fluoride from birth and even before birth. I would like to ask Dr. McLuhan how many glasses of fluoridated water a child should drink each day?

How much simpler and cheaper to buy a small bottle of fluoride and put the required number of drops into the child's breakfast juice. Most mothers are in the habit of giving their children daily doses of vitamins, etc., so to add fluoride would be very easy.

Then again have you ever seen a child drinking water? Any kind of fruit juice or pop is quickly drunk, and I would not put it past the child drinking from a muddy pool or stream, like the birds; but water from a faucet or tap! Not on your life!

The water district commissioner, Mr. Upward, said it would cost $44,000 to install a fluoridation plant and an additional $43,000 a year to operate it, so from a financial point of view how much better to allow those who desire it to buy and administer the fluoride, which is easily obtainable at very moderate cost.

FOR PERSONAL FREEDOM.

Final Push

I see the Community Chest is still around $30,000 short in its campaign. I wonder if 30,000 of us could send one dollar each through the mail just to show we want the goal to be reached. That would guarantee success. As a starter I'm sending in a dollar. Who'll do the same?

OLD BILL.

Something of Substance

In your issue of October 28, Hal Malone devotes a portion of his column to an objection voiced by The B.C. Beef Cattle Growers Association to the misleading advertising of certain chain stores together with some timely advice tendered our housewives by Mr. Julian Fry, secretary to the Association, regarding the selection of their meat requirements.

Mr. Malone takes exception to the secretary's remarks in view of what he terms "The bountiful tariff prevailing on beef and beef products all the way from hamburger to T-bone steaks." Mr. Malone suggests there is much more merit in a strictly vegetarian diet than meets the eye. For Mr. Malone's edification may I point out that one hour of labor will permit him to purchase more beef today than it has done for many, many years?

May I also remind Mr. Malone my yearly subscription to the Victoria Times is three times higher today than it was 16 years back. Does Mr. Malone agree I am being called upon to pay exorbitantly for the varying degrees of quality on the literary bill of fare presented by its columns? Therefore, I should spurn the solid substance offered by our newspapers and other reputable journals and seek to satisfy my need for mental stimulation, and enlightenment, browsing through the profundity of flashy tabloids and other verbal garbage temptingly displayed on the nation's newsstands at mass production prices?

Sponsoring Music

I would like to bring to the attention of your many readers the very worthwhile contribution rendered to our community by the Victoria Musical Art Society. It is one of the oldest musical organizations in the city with a record of continuous service since 1906, including the former Ladies Musical Club.

The claim that this society has upon the thoughtful people of Victoria is twofold. First, it is the only organization which sponsors regular recitals to present the wealth of artistic talent present in our city. Secondly, the work that has been done for the past 30 years for the young people of Greater Victoria is outstanding.

There are three active groups within the Musical Art Society for young people. The junior group up to age 13, the intermediate group, ages 13 to 21, and a studio group for young adults. In their monthly meetings under the guidance of excellent directors these young people are able to perform for each other and make music together which is the most effective method of creating within them a real love of music.

Through the scholarship fund maintained by the senior society, scores of the young talented musicians of our city have been helped financially to further their musical education and several have attained outstanding success in the musical life of Canada and Europe.

Such an organization needs a strong active membership and I would urge everyone who is interested in the musical life of Victoria to support the Musical Art Society in every way possible.

The Negative Approach

GLORIA had a dream, and, in her dream, she was reading a magazine article which said that Canada had designated 1961 as Canadian Sickness Year, or CSY, as the article called it for short.

"Do listen, dear," Gloria said to her husband, Ben, who was also in the dream. "They plan to spotlight a different disease each week."

"My God," said Ben. "They'll have their work cut out. Fifty-two different diseases."

Gloria thought it over. "They can fall back on the commoner complaints, or highlight special internal organs. In fact, this article suggests starting the CSY with Sluggish Liver Week."

Ruth

"Good enough," said Ben. "I'm sure that thousands of Canadians feel plenty litherish on New Year's morning. What else does the article say?"

"It suggests that Canadian women should get behind CSY. We should bring it up in our local PTAs. Then take it to provincial level, and finally move on to federal. Women on the March."

Ben made a curious whimpering sound.

"We should appoint an Ill-Health Convener," Gloria went on, ignoring him. She'd gather stories of ill health from the general members. And at least one meeting a year would be devoted to discussing ill health and the more lurid details of the worst diseases.

"Count me out," said Ben. "When we've got this working well in PTA," Gloria continued, "we should introduce the idea to the local branches of other national organizations. That way we can spread sickness worries clear across the country."

"Sounds dandy," said Ben.

YOUR HEALTH

Acne

Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation

One of the most distressing diseases of young people is acne. In its severe forms it produces so much unhappiness. It is a very common disease, and one not easily treated because there are several varieties; and often, in order to get good results, the treatment has to be watched over and carried out by an excellent skin specialist. As is well known, it is a disease of teenagers. It commonly shows up around the time of puberty, and often it ends about the age of 22. Sometimes, however, it continues to give trouble for many more years. It must have something to do with the glands of internal secretion, and particularly the sex glands.

Alvarez

It can be severe in big, strapping athletic and otherwise very healthy boys. Interestingly, it does not appear in eunuchs, or in a lad who has such small testicles that they haven't much function. In girls, acne often flares up with each menstrual period. It is most likely to occur in girls with menstrual irregularities. Its relation to the sex glands is shown also by the fact that if the cases of older women, when they are being treated with male hormone because of a cancer of the breast or the womb, acne may show up. It can be produced experimentally in girls by giving them progesterone, which is related to the ovarian hormone. Acne sometimes can be produced in men and women of any age by giving them cortisone.

One primary difficulty with sufferers from acne is that many of them have a greasy, oily skin. The fat glands in their skin are too active. As a result, they have many blackheads or so-called comedones. The taking of bromides or iodides will cause an acne-like eruption. Chocolate favors the production of acne in the cases of many youngsters. Perhaps ice cream and all the rich sundae which teenagers love to consume in great quantities tend to make acne

"They suggest issuing a year's supply of Scotch-lite tape with every car licence."

"Whatever for?"

"So we can put the keyword of the current week's campaign on the bumper. In Constipation Week, for instance."

"No need to elaborate," said Ben. "We're to approach the drug stores and the food chains. Show them how, if they back CSY, it'll boost their sales no end. A pressure group must approach the postmaster-general for a different cancellation on the stamps each week. National Gall Bladder Week stamped on all our mail would also stamp it on the public mind. We're to get after radio, TV and the press. Editorials, special columns, publicity pictures, you know."

"Or a gall bladder?" Ben asked. "Oh, that would have to be a diagram. But now that the papers are using color, perhaps parts of the diagram could be in red. The danger spots, maybe. All the things that could go wrong."

Gloria paused, and turned to page 92 where the article was continued.

"Go on," said Ben. "The suspense is killing me."

"We should make good use of that 1-in-x-number formula."

"One in 34 Victorians may have diabetes?" asked Ben. "One in five has this, one in seven has that, and one in three will die of something else?"

Gloria nodded. "I wonder whether the Russians have disease-ridden weeks," Ben said thoughtfully. "Does it mention a Russian Sickness Year? Or RSY, if you prefer initials?"

Gloria shook her head. "I thought not," said Ben. "This sort of neurotic and negative nonsense could only happen in North America."

"Not negative," said Gloria. "Why, Ben dear, if we really go after CSY on a national scale, by the end of 1961 one out of every two Canadians will be positive he's sick."

Communists Casting Eyes Toward Latin Americans

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet readers were told Wednesday "revolutionary battles in Venezuela and the heroic struggle of the Cuban people for their independence" show that Latin America is awakening to a big thaw in its relations with the Communist world.

An article on this subject, one of many reflecting a sudden lively Soviet interest in Latin American affairs, appeared in the official Communist Party newspaper Pravda. It coincided with the visit of First Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan to Mexico to open a Soviet cultural, scientific and industrial exhibition.

"The historic visit of Khrushchev to the U.S.A. and his proposal for total and complete disarmament proclaimed by him from the United Nations rostrum have had tremendous impact on millions of Latin Americans," said the article.

"For the peoples of Latin America, the re-establishment and development of friendly relations with the U.S.S.R. is a real and great cause associated with hopes for guaranteed national independence and a better life."

The article dwelt on the prospects of Soviet trade with Latin America. Mikoyan, an expert on foreign trade, probably will be discussing the matter in Mexico, and in other countries, should he extend his Latin American visit elsewhere.

"The cold war is an obstacle to broader business contacts of Latin America and the other states," the Pravda article said.

Tight Money Seen Stifling Schools

Education Minister Leslie Peterson said Wednesday night the British Columbia Social Credit League has offered an annual prize of $500 for the best essay on "The Monetary System of Canada With Recommendations to Secure the Better Distribution of Goods and Services Under a Free Enterprise Economy."

The competition will be open to students at the University of B.C. in any faculty who are registered and in attendance at the university in the winter session, but will be limited to graduate students and undergraduates in the third, fourth and fifth years of study.

He also said in an interview the foolish tight-money policy of the federal government was throttling B.C.'s school building program.

"At the provincial level we are doing everything possible to prevent curtailment of school construction," he said.

But, he warned that "unless the money market situation drastically improves... unless the present tight money policy is relieved... the school building program will, of necessity, be severely restricted."

He said the provincial government had authorized school building referendums totalling more than $5,000,000, but "even if the owner-electors assent, neither the school boards nor my department can be assured of the availability of funds on the bond market or temporary bank borrowings to enable construction projects to proceed."

NOW... good news for good drivers!

Atomic Costs Should Be Shared

NEW YORK (AP)—Russia's atomic energy chief said Wednesday the United States and the Soviet Union should end wasteful duplication and share some of the costs of developing nuclear power for peaceful use.

Professor Vasily S. Yemel'yanov cited atom smashers. "You build a big machine and then we build a bigger one," he said. For the scientists of the world one big machine of a type should be enough, he said, suggesting that there be an agreement on what types should be built by different nations.

First British settlement in Australia was in 1788 at Port Jackson, where the city of Sydney now stands.

'I Want My Daddy Back'

VANCOUVER (CP) — "I want my daddy to come back then my mommy no cry any more and not be sick."

DEPORTATION 'JUSTIFIED'

OTTAWA (CP) — The government's action in seeking to deport William Chan is "completely justified," Sydney Williams, executive secretary of the Canadian Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said today.

Mr. Williams said in an interview that after discussing the case with Immigration Minister Fairclough, "he was satisfied the government's action is completely justified."

Alice Chan, five-year-old daughter of Weldon Chan, for whom a fugitive warrant was issued Tuesday by the immigration department, hugged the teddy bear her father had given her shortly before he disappeared.

"My daddy long time not here. He go to get money for us to go to Hong Kong... but I no want to go to Hong Kong. I like here."

She said she prays nightly: "Please God, help my daddy come back to me."

Her father disappeared Nov. 2, the day before he was to return to his native Hong Kong with his family. The family, which had been here on visitors permits, were to be deported because the immigration department refused to allow them to become permanent residents.

Harry Fan, Chan's lawyer, said Chan is in hiding. He has appealed to him to contact him by mail.

Meanwhile, friends said Mrs. Chan is suffering from nervous strain.

CMA Chief Caught Off Base on Wages

By HAL MALONE
Times Business Editor

A leading Canadian businessman learned Wednesday that there is more to B.C.'s industrial wage level than meets the eye.

W. H. Evans, of Toronto, president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, was telling newsmen he thought eastern Canada manufacturers would conduct future plant expansion in B.C. if cheap power is made available through development of the Peace, the Columbia, or both.

He waxed enthusiastic about B.C.'s "great industrial development" (Incidentally, he had just come from a chat with Attorney-General Bonner who doubles as minister of Trade and Industry) and mentioned that Mr. Bonner suggested eastern delegates to the 1961 CMA convention in Vancouver should detour to northern B.C. to look over industrial development in the area.

Did Mr. Evans think eastern manufacturers would plan plant expansion considering B.C.'s erratic labor situation? "Oh yes," he replied. "The labor situation is difficult here. No doubt of that. But the wage differential between B.C. and the east isn't too great."

At this point, O. R. Olson, the CMA's lieutenant in B.C., turned Okanagan-apple red and interjected: "The wage scale is somewhat different, Mr. Evans. In Ontario the rate is $1.81 per hour. Here it's $2.09."

That means a difference of 28 cents per hour as any manufacturer knows. Multiplying 28 cents by thousands of man hours per day caused Mr. Evans' face to turn ashen, not to mention downright ghostly.

"Really?" he asked. "That is a factor, isn't it?"

Having tottered once, Mr. Evans neatly sidestepped a question on the merits, or otherwise, of trading stamps. "Trading stamps are purely a retailing proposition," he commented.

Christmas is just around the corner, according to a note from Public and Industrial Relations Ltd. via Shimizu, Japan.

The note reveals the first shipment of Mandarin oranges, "a traditional harbinger of Christmas," is now headed for B.C. aboard the freighter Kristin Bakke.

The vessel is carrying 200,000 bundles, will be followed by other ships with 1,300,000 bundles.

The Mandarins, popularly known as "Jap oranges," will be on sale next Monday if the Kristin Bakke has smooth sailing, later if the Pacific is unco-operative.

Wholesaler G. R. Pears says Canada will get her usual quota (3,000,000 boxes) this year despite hurricanes which destroyed a large part of the Japanese crop.

B.C. gets a "large share" of the Canadian quota which is not sold east of Toronto, because, says Pears, the east coasters prefer Florida tangerines.

No Mandarins go to the U.S. None have, in fact, gone south of the border since the Second World War.

SCOTT TO TEST POLLS

'Want to Show Law Is an Ass'

William A. Scott, the "maverick" of city politics, said today he will attempt to file papers early for aldermanic office so that he can make a test of his right to run.

Mr. Scott was barred from running for civic office four years ago after he was convicted of assaulting an Oak Bay wiring inspector.

Under the election law, a person convicted of an indictable offence cannot stand for office for five years.

Mr. Scott claims that when his nomination papers were refused the last time, he had filed them at the last minute, just before nominations closed, so that he had no opportunity to make a full test of the issue.

This time he'll get his papers completed early and attempt to have them accepted.

He is basing his claim on the assertion that he should not have been charged with an indictable offence, since all he did was strike one blow in the course of an altercation with the inspector.

NEEDS A PARDON

"I want to show that the law is an ass in this matter," Mr. Scott said.

"If I was guilty of an indictable offence then every parent who smacks a child is guilty of such an offence and should be barred from contesting an election."

He said he is attempting to enlist the support of Attorney-General Robert Bonner and A. E. de B. McPhillips, Victoria M.P., in his campaign for vindication.

Under the law as it now stands, Scott would have to get a pardon from Ottawa in order to clear his record and make him eligible.

U.S. Blocks Sale Of Steel to Russia

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The commerce department has blocked an effort by the Soviet Union to buy $15,556,207 worth of American stainless steel. The department said the applications were disapproved under regulations prohibiting shipment to Communist countries of materials having strategic value in wartime.

DIEF REJECTS VICTORIA MEET

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker said today that the next federal-provincial fiscal conference will be held in Ottawa in the late summer of 1960.

He said he appreciates the offer of Premier Bennett of British Columbia to hold the conference in Victoria but said that it would take place here.

VIKING VIEWS

By ELLERY LITTLETON

Plans for the Victoria College Homecoming are nearing completion. Sports fans and college students alike are invited to the Gordon Head grounds on Saturday to enjoy events scheduled for the big day.

At 2:45 p.m. a cross-country race from the college to Gordon Head will begin with the northwest junior cross-country championship team from Victoria High competing with runners from the college, HMCS Naden, Royal Roads, Mount Douglas High and University School.

The soccer team will take on a UBC squad at 2. The first ball will be kicked by P. J. Mulcahy, deputy minister of mines, and soccer great several years ago.

After the soccer game, the rugby team will take the field to tackle the Grads. Judge J. B. Clearhue, chairman of Victoria College Council, will boot the first ball at 3:30.

While the men struggle outdoors, the women will stage a volleyball tournament in the gymnasium, beginning at 2. Three college teams and three Grad teams will play a series of three games each. The Grad teams are captained by Mrs. Margaret Garner and Miss Gloria Pope. A fine, undefeated team of members of the faculty will take on another unbeaten squad, composed of members of the Athletic Council, in a volleyball game at 3:30.

BASKETBALL GAMES
At 4, the college Vikings girls' basketball team will see its initial action against Julie Becroft's Grads, among whom will be Gloria Pope, Pat Lisle and Val Peden.
Ken McCulloch's Viking "B" team will go against the Royal Roads crew at 6:30, in what should be a close basketball game, as both teams are very closely matched.

At 8:30, the feature event of the day will take place when the College Vikings take the floor against the Vancouver YMCA junior men's aggregation. This should be a contest between the two best junior basketball teams in western Canada. Four members of the YMCA team are holdovers from last year's western Canada champs, and just two years ago, the Vikings defeated the "Y" on their way to the Canadian championship.

TALLEST TEAM
This year's first-string Vikings, who captured the B.C. high school crown for Victoria High last season, will be going against what is probably the tallest team in British Columbia.

Three YMCA players, Ron Juriet, John Hyndman, and Terry Bunyan tower 6'8", 6'7" and 6'5", respectively. Four other players are over six feet.

The Gordon Head gymnasium is nearly in shape for Saturday. The former drill hall contains two full-size basketball courts, and has ample room for indoor sports event. As yet, no bleachers have been installed, but 1,000 chairs are being gathered for Saturday night. The basketball teams are looking dubiously at the tar courts—hard on the legs. A wooden floor and bleachers will eventually be installed.

The rugby team vacated the cellar in the Victoria Rugby Union standings with a 6-3 record last Thursday at Carnarvon Park. The soccer team didn't fare quite so well, however, as they lost 2-1 to Canadian Scottish on Sunday. Allan Glenn scored College's lone goal.

Two grass hockey teams have been formed, and both are playing in the Association League. The first team beat Norfolk House 1-0 and tied 2-2 with Queen Margaret School. On Saturday, at 10 a.m. the first team will compete for the Bridgman Cup at Oak Bay High.

The Vikings basketball team had a rough weekend. They travelled to Alberni on Friday night to defeat the Alberni Juniors 61-36, then returned over icy roads to play the Harlem Clowns Saturday night.

The Clowns, scoring by hook or crook, dumped the Vikings 66-49 in a laugh-filled game. Viking forward, Barry Sadler, didn't find the performance too amusing. He received a broken nose during the shenanigans. Daryl Lorimer was high scorer for the College with 20 points.

Cadets Are Ready For Annual Battle
Rugby steps front and centre on the cadet sports parade this Saturday.

Squads from HMCS Ventre and Royal Roads will clash head on in the annual battle for the Hibbard Trophy at the lower Naden field on Colville Road.

Rivalry between the two schools has developed the trophy battle into one of the top events of the year for cadet athletes, who are eagerly awaiting their own version of "Grey Cup Day."

Action starts at 2:30 and Reginald J. C. Hibbard RCN (ret.) has been invited to perform the opening kick-off and to present the trophy following the game.

Venture won the silverware in 1957 and last year the clubs struggled to a draw. Saturday's game is open to the public. Both clubs are members of the Victoria Rugby Union, and the match will be considered a league game by Union officials.

In the other league match scheduled Saturday, front-running James Bay Athletic Association gets a chance to step further in front of the pack. The Oarsmen take on Navy at Macdonald Park at 2:30.

Collegians Favored In Hockey Tourney
Ten teams will be battling for the unofficial Vancouver Island women's grass hockey championship Saturday.

At stake will be the Bridgman Cup, which will be awarded for the 22nd year to the winning team in a tournament at Oak Bay High School.

Defending champion Norfolk House is overshadowed this year by the favored Victoria College side, composed of members of winning teams in the last two years, and which beat a strong UBC side three weeks ago.

Competing in two divisions,

Stan's Great Round Keeps Canada Close

By OSCAR FRALEY

MELBOURNE, Australia (UPI) — Canada's Stan Leonard and Australian Peter Thomson took the individual lead of the Canada Cup tournament today. Sam Snead shot the hottest round, a five-under-par 65, to move within two strokes of the leaders.

But Snead's partner, Cary Middlecoff, slipped badly to a 75 and left the United States team nine strokes behind Australia in the international professional tournament.

Leonard, of Vancouver, almost matched Snead, who combined a 32 out and 33 on the back nine for his score and his two-round total of 138. The Canadian had 31-35-66, for a two-day total of 136 and a tie with Thomson. Thomson, four-

Balding Bracketed With Ex-Winner

Middlecoff's shaky 33-42-75 dropped him all the way back to 147, with former winner Pete Nakamura of Japan and Al Balding of Canada heading the rest of the pack.

Australia maintained its seven-shot lead on the two-man scores, with a 276 for the two rounds played by Thomson and Nagle. Canada took sole possession of second place with 283, followed by the United States, 285; Wales, 287, and South Africa, 292.

Leonard started weakly, three-putting the second for a bogey five, but then began splitting the pin with his approaches and smoking home the ball with his putter. He birdied the third with a three-footer, the fourth with a seven-footer, the sixth with a 10-footer, and the ninth with a 35-foot putt to bring howls from the gallery.

Heading back, he bogeyed the 11th, missing the green, birdied the 13th, wedging to three feet from the cup, bogeyed the 14th on a short second shot, birdied the 16th on a 40-foot putt, and reached the par five, 575-yard 17th with a No. 4 wood second shot to the green for a birdie four.

Snead shot a magnificent round, primarily on approach irons and hot putting. A crowd of 14,000 watched him card his 65 on the sunny Royal Melbourne course.

He wielded a blazing putter for two birdies on the front side and four coming in. Middlecoff got a birdie on the fourth with a 45-foot putt, but blew sky high on the back nine, bogeying six holes.

Folley Toys With Alonzo

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Zora Folley, the No. 2 contender for the world heavyweight boxing title, toyed with game Alonzo Johnson Wednesday night for a unanimous 10-round decision.

Folley weighed 197½ and Johnson 189½ for the bout, staged at a motel on a charity dinner-dance program.

Folley, using his right hand like a club against the crowd-pleasing Johnson, was unmarked at the end. Johnson's left eye was badly swollen.

It was the second straight setback for Johnson, a promising youngster from Pittsburgh who won 13 in a row before being outpointed by Alex Mitcheff.

Tillicums Beaten
Beating the league-leading Tillicums 7-5 this week, Elks moved into a first-place tie with Tillicums in Victoria Inter-Club Snooker League play.

Each has 36 points and are trailed by Pro Pats with 35 who tied Eagles 6-6. Britannia Legion beat ANAF Vets 9-3. Britannia has 28 points, Eagles 27, and ANAF 18.

RANGERS OUST CZECH SQUAD

BRATISLAVA, Czechoslovakia (AP) — Glasgow Rangers and Red Star of Bratislava Wednesday tied 1-1 in their European Cup soccer match before 60,000. Glasgow advanced to the next round of the tournament because it had won the first match, 4-3.

Rovers Reach Second Round

LONDON (Reuters) — Doncaster Rovers edged Gainsborough 1-0 in a Football Association Cup first round replay at Gainsborough, Lincolnshire, Wednesday.

Doncaster now meets Darlington at home in the second round.

Results of other Football Association Cup first round replays and completion of second-round draw:

Reading 2, Norwich City 1, winners home to King's Lynn.

Wokingham 2, Southport 1, winners home to Halifax Town.

Southampton 3, Coventry City 1, winners home to Southampton.

Barnsley 2, Barnsley 1, winners away to Rochdale.

Aussies Win Test

DACCA, Pakistan (Reuters) — Australia defeated Pakistan by eight wickets with four hours to spare on the last day of the first cricket test match here Wednesday. The second test starts at Lahore, Saturday.

Australia, resuming at 64 for one, scored the 46 runs they needed for victory Wednesday for the loss of Neil Harvey.

Final scores: Pakistan 200 and 134; Australia 225 and 112 for two wickets.

Andrews Must Retire

ST. PAUL (AP) — The Minnesota Athletic Commission Wednesday ordered the retirement of Al Andrews, St. Paul middleweight, "for his physical welfare."

Andrews, once a rated middleweight who has fought on 26 network television fights, has lost 16 of his last 18 fights, nine of them in a row. Several were by knockouts.

Secretary George Barton said the commission acted after word from Long Beach, Calif., that promoters there were planning a fight between Andrews and Joey Giambra.

Cabinet to Hear Last-Ditch Plea

PORT ALBERNI (CP) — A city council delegation Wednesday won a promise of a cabinet hearing so the city's position in a fight with MacMillan and Bloedel Limited over school assessments can be put before the government.

Council decided to make a last-ditch appeal after attempts in the courts to upset a fixed assessment agreement signed with the company in 1945 failed.

The agreement fixed the assessment of the company mill at $800,000 until 1965 for city tax purposes. However, the city's share of the budget for School District 70 is based on the actual value of $32,000,000.

NANAIMO (CP) — The Gabriola ferry will receive an additional subsidy of $1,250 a month from the provincial government so its services may be expanded. The service is already receiving an annual $22,000 subsidy.

Saved By Belt

NANAIMO — Edwin Stockdale, whose car went out of control on the highway near here Tuesday and rolled over several times, can thank a safety belt for saving his life and preventing serious injury. He lost control of the car while passing another vehicle, and his own car was demolished.

Full support of the forthcoming $799,000 school building bylaw to be placed before ratepayers of Saanich School District 63 in December was promised this week at a meeting of the Beaver Lake Home and School group.

Trustee R. Sinkinson told the group the provincial government will be responsible for 75 per cent of the amount, and the school district for the balance.

Overweight

DUNCAN — Richard Royal Ganges, was fined $10 and $5.50 court costs Wednesday after being convicted by acting police magistrate R. F. Barnes on a charge of hauling with an over-loaded truck.

Royal pleaded not guilty and told the court he had "hailed identical loads over the Koksilah weigh-scale for four years."

DUNCAN — Some means of honoring the memory of Major Charles F. Hoey, VC, killed in Burma in 1944 while fighting with British forces, has been urged on city council by the Cowichan Community Arts Council.

It was suggested that when the proposed city parking lot is built that the officer be considered. He was the only person from this area to win the Victoria Cross in the Second World War. The award was made posthumously.

The family spent the night with Mr. Bertrand's brother in Saanich.

IMAGINATION is shown in Christmas toys here this year. This old-fashioned fire department wagon has ball of "steam" hovering overhead. It's actually a feather-light plastic sphere kept up by wind from hidden fan, powered by flashlight batteries. But to Michael Richard Toms, 5, of 2849 Parkview, proceedings look quite mysterious. ## Sooke Teachers Seek Arbitration on Pay Sooke school board and 70 teachers employed in the district have referred their salary dispute to arbitration.

Teachers asked for a 15.2 per cent pay increase, and the board refused to allow more than 4 per cent.

John Williams, chairman of the board's salary committee, said a 4 per cent would mean a tax levy of one mill throughout the district.

"To the best of my knowledge, teachers have enjoyed annual salary increases every year during my nine years on the school board," he said. "The Sooke school board now feels that it is time to hold the line, or, if that is not possible, at least to reduce the amount of these annual increases."

Island 'School Hop' Aid Refused

PENDER ISLAND — Education Minister Leslie Peterson has rejected a plea from Pender Island Chamber of Commerce for assistance with transportation costs faced by residents whose children attend high school on Salt Spring Island.

Instead, he advised that parents affected seek greater assistance from their school board.

Mrs. Elmer Bowerman, chairman of the chamber education committee, and W. L. Shirley, transportation chairman, told Mr. Peterson in Victoria that island residents often are forced to keep their children from high school although they the same school taxes as others.

At present room and board at Ganges, site of Salt Spring Island Elementary-Senior High School, is $60 per month, with the cost of weekend transportation extra. The department pays $20 per student, and the school board $5 toward this cost.

Mr. Peterson said granting such aid would require a large sum to include similar requests from all areas of B.C. where transportation offers difficulties.

Islands within Salt Spring School District 64, where residents have the problem, are North and South Pender, Mayne, Saturna and Galiano.

B.C. Shipyards Must Seek Work in Different Fields

By TOM GOULD
(Times Ottawa Correspondent)

OTTAWA—Shipyards on the West Coast are faced with the loss of all future government shipbuilding contracts.

Defence production department officials say their only hope for survival is to gear their production facilities to related fields—particularly in the construction of component parts of United States defence weapons.

TWO CONTRACTS

The defence production department has two contracts on its books, one for construction of a 22,000-ton tanker and supply vessel for the navy, and a meteorological research vessel for mines and technical surveys.

The tanker will cost about $15,000,000, and the mines and technical vessel about $6,500,000.

Both will be awarded on a competitive tender basis, and West Coast shipyards, because of a high wage differential, are unable to compete with Eastern yards.

NO NEW SHIPS

The navy's destroyer-escort program is almost completed. All contracts for the so-called repeat-Restigouche Class program—seven DEs—have been awarded, and no new naval shipbuilding program is in sight.

VMD-Yarrows have started work on DE 262, the Saskatchewan, and Burrard, at Vancouver, on 263, the Yukon. That, according to the government spokesmen, is the end of the line.

Both ships were allocated to the West Coast yards.

A-G Contradicts Ottawa

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Attorney-General Leslie R. Curtis said Wednesday he "most certainly did request" RCMP reinforcements last March during a Newfoundland loggers' strike.

Mr. Curtis was elaborating on statements he made Tuesday, night about the federal government's contention that it did not break an agreement with Newfoundland for the supplying of RCMP reinforcements.

Newfoundland is suing the federal government for unspecified damages on the grounds it had to hire additional police to meet an emergency because Ottawa refused to provide requested reinforcements.

In a defence filed in the Supreme Court of Canada Tuesday, the federal government claimed it was not asked for more police.

Grandmother Under Arrest

COLOMBO, Ceylon (UPI)—Police today arrested an ousted woman cabinet minister and the businessman brother of another minister for complicity in the Sept. 25 assassination of Prime Minister Solomon W. R. D. Bandaranaike.

The woman was Mrs. Vimala Wijewardene, 51, a glamorous grandmother who was fired as minister of health Oct. 20 because of her association with the suspected murderers. The man was Richard de Zoysa, elder brother of finance minister Stanley de Zoysa.

Buddhist monk Somaratne Thero, one of the two monks arrested for the slaying, told police Richard de Zoysa supervised his target practice before he shot and killed Bandaranaike on the steps of the premier's home in a plot that has reached high into Ceylon's government.

It was considered almost certain Prime Minister Wijayanada Dahanayake now would fire the finance minister and his younger brother, Sydney de Zoysa, deputy inspector general of police. Both have been accused of hampering the assassination investigation.

JAIL HUNTER-BUTCHER

KAMLOOPS (CP) — A hunter was sent to Oakalla for 12 months here when found guilty of stealing a dead cow near Edith Lake Nov. 3. The man apparently shot the cow in mistake. He then butchered it and took the meat home.

France Jumps Army Budget

PARIS (Reuters)—The National Assembly today voted approval of a $3,000,000,000 military budget for 1960 to provide France with a million-man army and to develop an "atomic striking force." Half the proposed army strength will be stationed in Algeria.

The assembly ended a long debate in the early hours of this morning over the new defence budget which provides for an increase of about $32,480,000 above the 1959 figure. The budget allows higher spending for development of the atomic bomb and for construction of 50 Mirage IV fighter-bombers capable of delivering the bomb while flying at twice the speed of sound.

'Cheat in Meat' Exposed in N.Y.

NEW YORK (AP)—The boss inspector of New York City's butchers was accused Wednesday of a $1,000 shakedown by threatening to end one butcher's short-weight racket if he didn't pay off.

The city official is 47-year-old Fred J. Loughran, who was arrested on extortion charges. He was ousted Tuesday night as director of the city's bureau of weights and measures. Inspectors under him were sworn to keep butchers honest.

District Attorney Edward S. Silver of Brooklyn quoted one inspector as telling butcher Manny Seligman in Loughran's presence:

"If you don't come through you'll have to give 16 ounces to the pound and you can't stay in business that way."

Loughran's arrest came during a Brooklyn grand jury investigation of scale-rigging and short-weight racketeering by butchers, allegedly with the connivance of city inspectors in Loughran's department. Housewives, many in poor districts, were the victims, paying full-weight prices for short-weight purchases.

Inspectors from the bureau were described as taking pay-offs from butchers to ignore crooked scales. There were growing indications that the short-weight racket was not confined to either butchers or Brooklyn, but was citywide among many types of retail food stores.

U.K. Shipyard Firms Reject Wage Demands

LONDON (Reuters)—The British Shipbuilding Employers Federation Wednesday rejected union demands for a pay increase and a shorter work week for 200,000 shipyard workers. Federation President Harold Towers told a joint meeting of the federation and the executive council of the Confederation of Shipbuilding and repairing outlook is so unfavorable that prices must be reduced.

INDICTED—Edward F. Weinheimer, New York, was indicted by grand jury in Washington Wednesday on charges that he lied to the jury about an alleged payoff for labor peace in the trucking industry. He is a former Teamsters Union member. (AP Wirephoto.)

Killed By Snowball

EBNAT, Switzerland (AP)—Jakob Giezendanner, 15, was killed by his own snowball Wednesday. Caught up in a snowball he was rolling down a slope, he was crushed to death as the mass of snow grew to immense size around him.

NEW EFFORT TO OUST HOFFA

NEW YORK (AP)—A lawyer for insurgent members of the Teamsters Union asked Wednesday for the removal of Teamster President James R. Hoffa.

In a motion mailed to federal district court in Washington, Godfrey P. Schmidt asked for Hoffa's ouster pending trial before a board of special examiners or referees.

The group of teamsters represented by Schmidt has fought Hoffa in the courts for more than two years, filing more than 263 charges against him.

Appeals and other legal steps have prevented a disposition of the charges.

Disorder, Anger and Frustration in Long Wait for Justice

By HUMPHRY DAVY

The city's health and welfare centre at 1947 Cook was as active as a circus Wednesday. But the atmosphere was one of annoyance and despair. The high ceiling vestibule and the narrow hallways flanked by neat but small cell-like offices were jammed with parents and youngsters of all ages, some sitting, but mostly standing.

Waiting 2 Hours

Some of the grown-ups looked tired and weary. They had been waiting for more than two hours for their names to be called. The youngsters, bored with their restricted surroundings, fidgeted and squirmed in their chairs or milled about aimlessly in the hall.

"Sit down, Johnny," snapped a mother.

Johnny was busily trying to reach a light bulb.

She was only one of many weary mothers at the centre. The only happy-looking couple was a boy and girl who sat quietly spooning in a corner, apparently not minding a half-day away from school.

It was a scene of disorder; of frustrated and angry faces jammed between narrow walls; mothers with youngsters squeezing their way along the corridor; men tapping their feet impatiently. They were exasperated. Some made no bones of voicing their feelings out loud.

"Cattle get better treatment than this," said a tall, nattily dressed businessman. "What a system! It's time setup for the Greater Victoria disarray."

The businessman echoed the thoughts and opinions of some 50 parents who were summoned to appear with their youngsters before the juvenile court which sits at the Centre every Wednesday afternoon.

Skiping School

Everyone questioned agreed that it was time a proper juvenile and family court was set-up for the Greater Victoria area.

They had good reasons to be irritated at the present system of administering juvenile cases. The majority of youngsters who were up for minor traffic violations were missing a half-day of school. Parents were losing working hours. A parent's whole day was being disrupted because of the lack of an efficient juvenile court system.

Lost Half Pay

As one man pointed out, a motorist charged with speeding paid less in time and money for his traffic offence when he was called to police court.

"There's too much waiting here," he said. "I've lost half a day's wages for a boy who rode a bicycle without a lamp. It is obvious that the court can't handle all the juvenile cases in Victoria in one day of the week."

A former RCAF disciplinarian said he never realized the need for a juvenile court until his son was summoned to appear in court for a minor traffic violation.

was faced with over-night expenses in Victoria.

Meanwhile, in one of the building's larger offices sat juvenile judge J. A. Byers swamped with files dealing with minor offenders from Victoria. His task is to cram as much work as he can between the hours of 2 and 5 p.m.

There is little he can do to speed up the process of administration. He has no control over the number of cases to be heard in a day. Parents would have to wait.

A juvenile officer explained that no judge could be expected to run through 50 cases in a matter of minutes.

More Efficient

The answer is a family court which would sit four or five days a week for the whole of the Greater Victoria area," he said. "The cases could then be spread out and dealt with more efficiently."

A lawyer also noted that a proper family court would also permit the centralization of files. This would ease the task of preparing cases for a court hearing.

"Some hearings have to be postponed because juvenile officers haven't the facilities to prepare their cases in time," he said. "The delays can't be helped under the present system. It's beyond the control of judge and officers."

JAYCEES MAKE PRESSURE PLEA FOR IMMEDIATE FAMILY COURT

A resolution urging immediate establishment of a unified family and juvenile court was passed by Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce Wednesday night to increase pressure on municipalities.

Brian Small, chairman of the Jaycee's government and civic affairs committee, said the resolution was put forward because Oak Bay and Esquimalt have shown a lack of enthusiasm for the proposed court.

Missed Her Boat

"These youngsters are not criminals," he said. "There should be a more efficient way of dealing with them."

One mother from Salt Spring Island waited so long for her family case to be heard that she missed her boat and

WOMAN CHEATS DEATH

'Thank Heaven Boy Was Home'

Officer to Rescue As Car Takes Dive

A Victoria naval officer's wife miraculously escaped death Wednesday afternoon when the car she was driving plunged off the RCN fueling jetty into 35 feet of water in Esquimalt harbor.

Extraordinary good luck plus fast thinking and action by another navy officer saved the life of Mrs. Mary Locke, wife of Lt.-Cmdr. Maurice M. Locke, 982 Darwin, engineering officer of the destroyer escort HMCS Margaree.

But her greatest gratitude today was that her youngest boy, two-year-old Gregory, was not in the car when it went off the jetty.

"Thank heaven I left him at home," she said. "Almost invariably, I take him with me wherever I go. But for some reason, I didn't take him yesterday."

Mrs. Locke explained she had accompanied her husband to join his ship at the fueling jetty on the Colwood side of Esquimalt Harbor.

'SKIDDED OR SOMETHING'

"Maurice drove to the ship and turned the car around so it faced toward the land," she said. "I waited until he went aboard, then started the car and suddenly — I don't know what happened — it skidded or something — and it went over the side."

She said the door on her side of the car, a recent station wagon model, flew open and she hit the water.

The only witness to the accident was Lt. Robert Duston who had the duty watch on Margaree at the time. He sprinted down the gangway of the ship to the jetty, shedding his jacket as he did.

"I splashed around in the water and then I saw Bob on the jetty," Mrs. Locke said. "He called to me to hang on, then he jumped in, only a few feet from me. It was just a stroke by him, and one by me, and he had hold of me."

"He towed me to the bumper logs, and we held on, and in a short time — just seconds, I think — a boat came and picked us up."

The boat was the 46-foot RCN harborcraft YFP 12, operated by Harold Raybone. It was moored at another jetty about 700 feet away, and cast off immediately Mr. Raybone heard cries for help.

'SO QUICKLY'

"It all happened so quickly," Mrs. Locke said. "Bob and I were walking up the jetty before Maurice got off the ship."

The navy ambulance arrived minutes later, and Mrs. Locke was taken to Royal Jubilee Hospital. She was released after examination.

"I wasn't hurt, I didn't even swallow any water, but the reaction was awful," Mrs. Locke said. "I feel worse this morning than last night, especially when I think of what might have happened to Gregory if he had been with me."

10-FOOT DROP

One of the series of "lucky breaks" which kept Mrs. Locke unharmed was the fact the accident occurred at high tide, with a drop of only about 10 feet from the jetty floor to the water.

The automobile was raised from 35 feet of water in less than half an hour by a navy diving team consisting of PO Jim Connolly, PO William Penn and AB Mervyn MacDonald, all of the clearance diving unit at HMCS Naden.

The car, driven by its owner Keith G. Thornber, 414 Heather, was totally wrecked, police said.

Mrs. John A. Small, 1600 Hollywood, said she "woke with a start about 5 a.m. and ran to the front window. I heard him hitting everything but I couldn't see much then. It was just coming light."

Police said Thornber's car went east on Dallas where it became Hollywood Crescent, mounted the southeast curb at St. Charles and struck a fire hydrant 39 feet east of the intersection.

The car continued in a northeast direction, mounted the north curb of Hollywood and crashed 105 feet east through the front yards of 1624 and 1630 Hollywood where it knocked over the tree and left a fence.

It finally stopped on the east side of Passmore, on the north of Hollywood, where the driver emerged unhurt.

'Mail Order' Nomination In Saanich

A mail ballot bearing the names of three nominees has been distributed to all members of the Saanich CCF Association and naming of a candidate in the forthcoming provincial election takes place Friday, Dec. 4.

Nominees are Stanley A. Murphy, school teacher and Saanich councillor; Patrick H. Thomas, high school teacher and candidate in Oak Bay in the last provincial election; and J. B. Windsor, former Central Saanich councillor, library board member and member of the intermunicipal committee. Blind, Mr. Windsor is a noted writer.

Ballots will be counted and candidate named at a meeting in Douglas Hall, Douglas Street, Dec. 4, when provincial party leader Robert Strachan will be guest speaker.

Victoria CCF Association will hold its nominating meeting Monday night at Woodsworth Hall on Courtney Street.

Wild Sweep Made By Careening Car; Driver Escapes

At least one Ross Bay resident awoke to the crash of crumpling fenders at dawn today when a car swept wildly out of control over boulevards, a fire hydrant, tree and fence on Hollywood Crescent between St. Charles and Passmore.

The car, driven by its owner Keith G. Thornber, 414 Heather, was totally wrecked, police said.

Mrs. John A. Small, 1600 Hollywood, said she "woke with a start about 5 a.m. and ran to the front window. I heard him hitting everything but I couldn't see much then. It was just coming light."

Police said Thornber's car went east on Dallas where it became Hollywood Crescent, mounted the southeast curb at St. Charles and struck a fire hydrant 39 feet east of the intersection.

The car continued in a northeast direction, mounted the north curb of Hollywood and crashed 105 feet east through the front yards of 1624 and 1630 Hollywood where it knocked over the tree and left a fence.

It finally stopped on the east side of Passmore, on the north of Hollywood, where the driver emerged unhurt.

... HERE AND THERE ...

With NORMAN CRIBBENS

British immigrant Herbert L. Ford suggests we should have replicas of the Crown Jewels on view in the Legislative Buildings since so many U.S. tourists ask to see the originals when they come here.

"These replicas are available to exhibitions in Britain," he says.

The idea has been passed to provincial archivist Willard Ireland.

Seeking a quiet room at the quiet Empress Hotel, a French-Canadian lady tripped daintily up to the reception desk and smiled sweetly at the receptionist. Alas, she could not think of the English word for "quiet," so asked for "a room" and then poked a finger in each ear.

It worked like a charm—and reminded me of the time I went into a small cafe in France, soon after the war, in search of strong tea. I could not think of the French word for "strong," so asked for "le tay" and vigorously flexing the muscle of my right arm said: "Like this!"

The result was alarming. They all went into shrieks of laughter and the waitress fairly sobbed because monsieur was so funny! But I got my strong tea.

Mrs. Alice Mortimore of the Victoria branch, Canadian National Institute for the Blind, has discovered that the abbreviation CNIB can be dangerous.

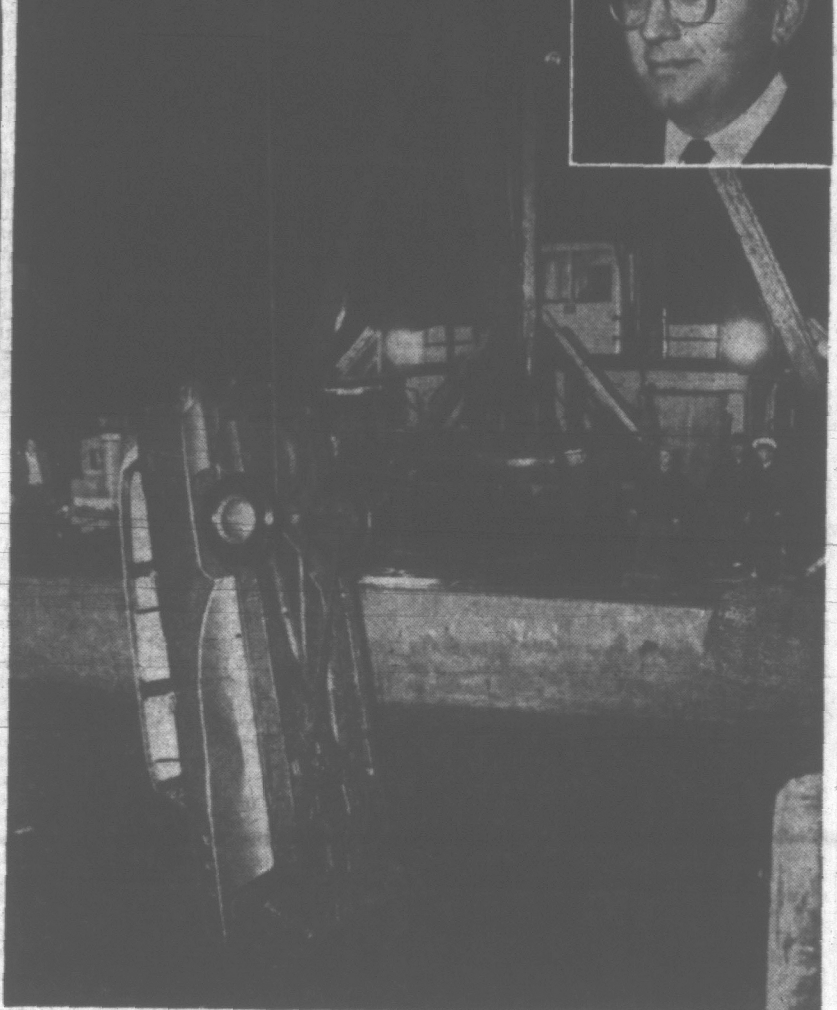

Addressing a convention in New York recently, she made frequent references to the CNIB.

Afterwards a lady in the audience stood up and asked: "Just what is this CNIB? I've heard of seen' eye dogs but this is the first time I've ever heard of a seen' eye bee!"

Off to Worthington, Minnesota, next Tuesday goes Rev. Richard J. Welsh, vicar of St. David's-by-the-Sea, Cordova Bay, for the past two years.

Mr. Welsh, a former member of the legislative press gallery, has been appointed minister of the Episcopal Church of St. John-on-the-Lake at Worthington—about 700 miles from here—and will also look after the neighboring parish of Luverne.

"I hate leaving the Island but frankly there is more opportunity for clergymen in the United States," he said.

'MORE IMAGINATION' URGED

Harbor Junks To Tea Garden?

IT GOT HIM IN TROUBLE ONCE AGAIN

Dave Thompson, 7049 West Saanich, was fined $30 in police court today on his second conviction this year for littering a street.

Police said he placed a beer bottle on a curb on Broughton, an almost identical offence for which he was fined $30 a few months ago.

"One would have thought you'd be warned off this sort of thing. I would have put it in my back pocket rather than toss it on the street," said Thompson.

There is need for "more imagination" in Victoria's tourist attractions, says world-traveller John Martin of Victoria Automobile Club.

"At present we are attracting plenty of visitors with our natural scenic beauties. But this is a competitive age and in a few years' time we will have to provide more novelties if we are going to hold our place in the tourist field."

Here are a few of Mr. Martin's ideas for brightening Victoria as a tourist centre:

A Japanese garden and tea room near Fisherman's Wharf with junks to take visitors across from the Inner Harbor.

Overhead cable cars (such as are now operated at Banff) to take sightseers over the Sooke straits.

A planetarium (indoor astronomical display) at Beacon Hill Park.

TEA GARDEN AT LAKE

A tea garden and swimming pool at Thetis Lake.

Mr. Martin, who has travelled widely in Europe, says many small cities, with less financial resources than Victoria, have used considerable ingenuity in devising tourist novelties.

"It is not enough for us to squeeze every dollar we can out of our tourists and take it for granted they will come back."

"We must be prepared to invest some of these dollars in the future."

Smith Re-Elected Liberal President

FRIDAY MEETINGS

Victoria Lions: Noon, Empress Hotel. A film on public relations will be shown.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

City finance committee today ordered repair of the plaster ceiling over the city engineer's offices before more falls down.

Cost of the work will be $600. Committee also requested a report on roof leakage and decided to await a pending report on the cost of a new roof for the building.

Thetis Park Nature Sanctuary Association will meet at 8 tonight in the Douglas Building cafeteria to hear J. E. Underhill speak concerning "Interpretation in B.C."

Hockey great Lester Patrick, 74, was reported improving in his condition today, suffering pneumonia for which he entered hospital more than two weeks ago.

His wife said he has been sitting up in bed and has taken short walks around the room.

Beaver Lake Home and School group will hold a birthday bazaar Friday at 7:30 p.m. in Beaver Lake Elementary School to celebrate the school's fourth year of operation. Program includes bingo and refreshments.

The fluoridation tap will be turned on at another outlet Dec. 2 when two speakers from the Victoria College staff will be heard by Victoria Labor Council.

W. G. Fields, biology department head, and L. J. Clark, head of the chemistry department, will address delegates on the issue.

Previously, the VLC had requested a speaker to provide speakers to explain desirability of fluoridation.

A week-end training cruise for RCN reservists attached to HMCS Malahat is planned for November 28 and 29.

Thirty-eight officers and men, and four Wrens, will be embarked in the frigate HMCS Jonquiere, leaving at 8 p.m. November 27, returning 8 p.m. November 29.

A $10,000 bequest has been left to Mountain View Home by a former Victorian. Resident of the estate of the late D. A. N. Ogilvy reverts to the home since the death of his only survivor recently.

But finance committee was told today that the city would have to seek court "clarification" of the will because the city-owned home for aged men is not a legal entity.

A group of Victoria life underwriters will receive "graduation certificates" tonight at the Victoria Life Underwriters' Association public relations supper and dance in the Sirocco Club.

Dr. Harry Hickman, president, Victoria College, will award Canadian Life Underwriter certificates to Lance Muirhead, George Forrest and Ronald McComman.

Court of revision will be held in city council chamber Friday at 10 a.m. to hear applications for amendments to the tentative city voters' list, posted all this week at the entrance to City Hall. Final list will be issued after the revisions are completed. Victoria voters go to the polls Dec. 10.

The $22,000 repair bill for Johnson Street bridge finally has been sent to Lloyd's of London for settlement, city finance committee was told today.

The bridge was knocked out of operation for two weeks last April when an Island Tug and Barge tow cut one of the spans. The city paid for the repairs and then billed the tug company's insurers.

Craigflower School PTA will hold a fall fair on Friday from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. There will be stalls, games, bingo and movies for the children.

BUT WHAT SHE SAW JUST WASN'T THERE

Mrs. Myrtle Hodgkinson, 3840 Cumberland, is in an "embarrassed" but reflective mood today.

She looked out her kitchen window this morning and saw flames "three or four feet high" inside a window in a neighbor's home across the way.

Promptly, she telephoned Saanich firemen. They arrived, with two trucks and the fire chief. Police also showed up.

"I knew the people worked all day, and there was no one home, so I felt I had to take action," said Mrs. Hodgkinson.

But there was no house fire.

It was a clear reflection of a neighbor's incinerator fire.

"I felt so embarrassed," said Mrs. Hodgkinson. Firemen feel she did the right thing.

Use Mink as an Accessory On Sweaters or on Coats

By PENNY SAVER

Any woman can wear mink these days! You don't have to invest in a costly stole or coat to know the luxury of its rich lustre. Why not be casual and wear it with your favorite sweaters and cardigans? You can if you get one of the intriguing sweater clips I've seen selling at $1.98.

Mink petalled flowers are centred with jewelled animals and tiny blossoms. They'd be ideal gifts, too, for the younger set.

Particularly attractive clip at $2.98 has a mink French poodle each end of the clip. Poodle has royal blue eyes and nose!

If you prefer, there are corsages of mink, shaped like roses and other flowers. These would give elegance to your suit or cloth coat. Corsages cost $2.98.

Accessories make good gifts. There are ladies' belts that would enhance good taste of any tailored outfit. One in soft suede is high fashion with its hook-on buckle and fringed end. Costing $5, belts come in purple, beige, British tan and grey.

Another belt in soft, soft leather gives a cummerbund effect with its 4½-inch width. Belt is lined in silk. You can choose from chartreuse, black, blue and red. These are selling at $4.50.

Low-priced Italian decanter sets can now be bought for only $3.49. Decanters come in three designs with six matching glasses. There are partially-ground glass stoppers to make containers air tight. Both decanters and glasses are trimmed with gold leaf and flower designs.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Try These Exercises for Weak Abdominal Muscles

Most persons know little about their intestinal tract and care less until it gives them trouble. This may come in the form of indigestion, ulcers, constipation or colitis.

The large intestine, or the colon, is a human tube through which food waste should pass without difficulty. The horizontal line of the colon from right to left should be straight across. It should not sag. I do not know why nature did this to us but there are three places where the colon bends sharply: at the right side of the horizontal line, at the left side of the horizontal line and far down in the left-hand corner of the abdomen.

If the abdominal muscles are weak and bulging, the angle of these bends increases, and a new one even may be added. This causes trouble.

It is interesting to note how closely correlated food always has been with happiness and success. We are told that the way to a man's heart is through his stomach and that an army travels on its stomach. It is a well-accepted fact now that many cases of intestinal disturbance such as colitis come from emotional disturbances. We know that worry can cause ulcers. We seem to take out our frustrations on our intestinal tract.

We should not further handicap it, then, by putting kinks in it because of weak abdominal muscles. The condition of these affects not only your figure but your health. Regular exercise will strengthen these important supports and also take inches from your abdominal measurement.

Try this one. Lie on the floor on your back with your legs straight and your arms resting on the floor at your sides. Bend the left knee up close to the abdomen. Kick toward the ceiling and lower left leg to the floor with a stiff knee. Bend the right knee and do the same. Continue, alternating left and right.

If or when your abdominal muscles are strong enough, take the same starting position but bend both knees up close to the abdomen. Straighten both legs, toward the ceiling. Lower both legs to the floor, keeping the knees stiff. Continue.

Remember that a lazy colon is one of the factors which contributes to constipation. If you would like to have my leaflet "Are You Committing Suicide Slowly?" (constipation) send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 23. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

DEAR ABBY ...

Check Your Facts, Ma'am!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Why do teachers nowadays give the kids so much homework that an 11-year-old child has to sit up until midnight to get it all done? Don't tell me that we have to keep up with Russia because if we never get to the moon it will be all right with me.

I think it is terrible the way our kids can't play outside in the fresh air any more. They come right home and have to start in with their homework. I have three children (11, 13 and 15) so I know what I'm talking about. They are all up studying at very late hours and when I have to wake them up at 6.30 in the morning they are dead tired. Can't something be done about teaching the children at school so that they won't have all that homework and ruin their health?

MOTHER OF THREE.

DEAR MOTHER: The average 11-year-old shouldn't have to sit up until midnight doing homework—unless of course he doesn't get to it until 10 p.m. Go to school and talk to your children's teachers. I think you'll find that the child who is well-organized and doesn't dawdle has plenty of time for playing outside as well as finishing his homework at a reasonable hour.

DEAR ABBY: For obvious reasons I don't want to get too specific here, but I would like to know to whom a citizen reports a policeman who has been seen breaking the law repeatedly?

WITNESS

In Africa — Miss Margaret Dawson, a Women's Missionary Society worker in Bie, Angola, Africa, gave a vivid account of her work among different tribes and of the response from the Africans at meeting of the Afternoon Auxiliary, WMS of First United Church. Mrs. W. J. McIntyre presided; Mrs. G. W. Hagland took devotionals. Nominating committee was named as follows: Miss Jean Rattray, Mrs. E. J. Capling and Mrs. A. E. Longmore. Uplands group of the WMS served tea under convenership of Mrs. Beulah Latham and Mrs. F. S. Fairbanks.

DEAR WITNESS: The chief of police.

DEAR ABBY: Please help a very unhappy 16-year-old girl out with her problem. I have been begging my mother for three years to let me shave my legs. She says once you start, you can't stop, and there is no sense in rushing things. But, Abby, I am a brunette, and my legs are so hairy I feel like a gorilla.

HAIRY

I read in a magazine article once that a person can stop shaving if they want to. Who is right? The magazine article or my mother? I hate to go to school looking like this. Can you help me convince my mother?

Confidential to Carol: He is more interested in a "bachelor's" degree. If you are looking for your "Mrs."—play the field.

What's your problem? For a personal reply, write to Abby, care of this paper. Enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

On Etiquette

Entertaining in New Home

We have been building a new home and expect to move into it soon. We would like to have a New Year's Eve house-warming, but don't want to obligate our friends to bring gifts. What do you advise?

Louise Davis answers: I don't blame you for wanting your friends to see your new home, but, when inviting your friends, I suggest that you avoid using the word "house-warming." You then wouldn't be obligating them to bring gifts. They might bring them anyway, simply because they want to, but at least you won't be asking them to.

Ages of Birthday Guests Span Three Different Wars

By ELIZABETH FORBES

I went to a birthday party this week. A party at which the ages of the principals, and at least one of the guests, stretched back across the years over two world wars to the beginning of the century and the Boer War.

The party was held in the lounge at the Veterans' Hospital. The four men honored, all with birthdays in November, were John McCall, 73; Patrick Sullivan, 81; George Barton, 81, and Charles Morson, 81.

While the men named were honor guests—and wore pink carnation boutonnières to prove it—every man living in the pavilion, who could get to the party (some were in wheelchairs) was there.

They were dressed in their best, too, with collars and ties on. All were freshly shaved.

FUN AND GAMES

A program had been arranged, with Charles Wilkins as master of ceremonies; assisted by Mr. Barton, who told me his birthday is really later this month but "it's fun to celebrate it a little early."

When Palle Jensen did his magic tricks, there was keen interest. All the guests were "sure" they knew how everything was done. But they chuckled with delight even when they found they had been fooled into believing a lighted candle was up Mr. Jensen's sleeve and a bright green handkerchief and half a glass of milk could be exchanged in containers separated by the width of a room.

There were contests, too, with every one of the men taking part. Beauty contest, with prizes going to the men who came to the party looking the best-groomed, went to T. Lee and G. Millin.

Old-time songs were given by Mrs. H. Wadams with the guests joining in.

A CAKE WAS CUT

Of course there was a birthday cake, made in the hospital kitchens, and decorated in pale yellow, with pink and green flowers. The four honor guests blew out the candles and Miss M. Williams, nurse on the floor where the party was held, cut it.

These birthday parties, held once a month, are arranged by the men themselves.

They were started five years ago with the idea of giving those who live permanently in the pavilion, something to "dress up for" as George Barton says.

It has worked, too. "We look forward to the parties now and no man wants to come unless he is spruced up for it," Mr. Barton explained.

He also insists that this is the only Veterans' Hospital in Canada where these birthday parties are held.

"The rest of them would do well to take a leaf out of our book," he says.

PIONEER CHURCH

Retires to Pacific Coast

Dr. Bergeoff-Gillow, who now lives here at 3295 Beach Drive with her husband, a retired banker, was a general practitioner in Montreal for 27 years before retiring a year ago.

She is a former director of experimental medicine and professor of pathology and parasitology of University of Columbia, and an ex-fellow in cancer research of the New York City Cancer Institute.

As the first woman graduate in medicine from Cartagena (1925) she said that in Canada few women doctors have much opportunity to advance far in the profession.

Coming to Canada in 1933 she did research for a year at McGill University, but said woman doctors, "no matter how competent, had to take second place to male doctors who were on a pedestal. For 27 years there were the same chiefs of staff."

Dr. Bergeoff-Gillow has a book coming out the end of this month entitled "A Doctor Dares to Tell," published by Comet Press, New York. She has done post graduate work in Paris, Vienna and London.

Main theme of her book is that "all diseases are preventable," and that today symptoms are being treated as diseases. She mentioned arthritis specifically.

And "people still die of heart trouble right after they have been examined."

This being the case it was time medical research attacked another "mode" of investigation, she said.

TV with Lee

Stockwell, Johansson In 'The Killers' at 9.30 on 7, 12

By PHIL LEE, Times TV Editor

THE DOLL IN THE HOUSE—Julie Harris is a superb actress and once again proved the point in Hall-mark Hall of Fame's 90-minute adaptation of Henrik Ibsen's classic Sunday night. As a matter of fact I can think of only one actress this season who has given a superior performance—Ingrid Bergman in "The Turn of the Screw."

Reason for this might be not so much a comparison between the two artists as the fact that Miss Bergman's role was the more demanding, requiring greater range.

As for "A Doll's House," although, of course, excellent, I thought it showed certain signs of wear and tear over 75 years passage of time. Or it may be that I am slightly jaded with its theme having seen it on some two or three other occasions. Be that as it may, the denouement of a mother leaving her three children with whom she was very obviously in love for the sake of a principle stretches my credulity to the breaking point.

True, the TV version kindly left its viewers suspecting that her husband would ultimately dream up a "miracle" that would draw them together again.
Nonetheless, I would rather have had a character metamorphosis take place in her husband, seeing himself in a new light following his awakening to the fact that his wife was more than a plaything, a doll, that she was a woman of courage, one who had saved his life and had kept this from him, proud of the one thing she had done to justify her existence to herself.

Even so, I feel much humility in taking upon myself the task of rewriting a work done by a man of Ibsen's stature.

MISS HARRIS, as mentioned before, was excellent as the Nora Heller the doll wife, although I thought she was better at the end than at the beginning when she sometimes allowed the character to run away with her. Christopher Plummer, as her husband, Torvald Heller, was, I thought, less unyielding and rock-like than the character required. Possibly best of all were Hume Cronyn as the unsure and unwanted black-mailer and Eileen Heckart as Nora's understanding friend and one-time love of Cronyn's. Jason Robards, Jr., as Helmer's old friend, was good but was seen so infrequently that his work was more difficult to assess.

BRANDOS IN COURT

Nursery Mayhem Feared by Judge

'SAVE NORTH WILDLIFE'

HARRISON HOT SPRINGS, B.C. (CP)—Fisheries and wildlife of the north should be preserved for their recreational value, a noted authority on northland fish and game said Wednesday.

Commercial development possibilities in this renewable resource of the north are limited, C. C. Lindsey told the B.C. Natural Resource Conference here, but the recreational value of it is increasing steadily.

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Marlon Brando, once the movies' champion of privacy for actors, Wednesday made public details of violent battles with his ex-wife.

He said she once came at him with a butcher knife, tried to run over him, threw a tricycle at him. He admitted he spanked her and once tied her with a sash.

She countered that he beat her, threw her down while she held their baby, ransacked her residence.

The Academy Award winning star and Indian-born actress Anna Kashfi have been feuding over his visiting rights with their 18-months old son, Christian Devi.

When they were divorced last April 22, she got a settlement of more than $500,000. He got the right to see his son every other night for 90 minutes and have custody for a month each summer.

Judge Mervyn A. Aggeler Wednesday put off permanent action until Jan. 13 but temporarily restricted the actor's visiting rights to 2½ hours each on Monday, Wednesday and Friday—provided he gives two hours' notice ahead of time.

The judge ordered Miss Kashfi must not be present in or near the nursery when Brando appears.

PECK QUILTS CO-STAR ROLE WITH MARILYN

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Gregory Peck bowed out of a co-starring role with Marilyn Monroe Wednesday.

He blamed a delay in the starting date. Others said his action resulted from disagreement over the size of the star's roles.

The film is 20th Century-Fox's Let's Make Love, formerly entitled The Billionaire.

The title switch may give a clue to Wednesday's action. The Billionaire would seem to make Peck the central figure. Let's Make Love would seem to give Monroe at least co-star billing.

MOVIE ROLE IN 'ICE PALACE'

Eskimo Beauty Signs Hollywood Contract

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Warner Brothers today signed a 19-year-old Eskimo actress—proof that the movies will find you if you're pretty enough.

The studio signed Dorcas Brower of Barrow, northernmost city in Alaska, to play, naturally enough, Robert Ryan's Eskimo wife in Ice Palace. Her visit to Hollywood is the first outside of Alaska. A talent scout spotted her acting in college plays in Sitka. Her Dutch father is Barrow's richest citizen. He owns a reindeer ranch, two trading posts and the town's main restaurant. Her mother and most of her ancestors are Eskimos.

"I am more than 50 per cent Eskimo," she said proudly. Her grandfather was Charles De Witt Brower, author of 50 Years Below Zero, generally rated a polar classic.

Will Rogers and Wiley Post were on a visit to Dorcas' grandfather when a plane crash took their lives in 1935. The grandfather helped bring out the bodies of the famed cowboy humorist and the round-the-world flight pioneer.

City Artist on Show

Victoria artist Herman Abeling is giving his first exhibition of paintings at the Apollo Art Galleries, 1106 Broad Street, this week and next.

He came here from Holland four years ago and has been painting since he was four years old. During the war he was a prisoner of the Germans but escaped from a prison camp with three other Dutch underground workers.

The three were captured and shot but Mr. Abeling escaped to Britain.

"He is an accomplished painter of the abstract-impressionist school," Chris Phillips, manager of the Apollo Art Galleries, said today.

GRAND OLD WARRIOR FADING BUT HE KEEPS SNORTING BACK

By ALAN HARVEY

LONDON (CP) — Sir Winston Churchill was described today as "restored to health" after an indisposition.

His secretary, Anthony Montagu-Browne, told a reporter:

"He's better now. He's all right. I'm afraid I can't give you any more details than that."

Obviously, age is beginning to tell on the old warrior. He will be 85 on his next birthday, Nov. 30. He is almost completely deaf and he gets about with some difficulty.

But the powerful will that has often triumphed over frailties of the body keeps driving him, and he makes occasional appearances in the House of Commons.

Conservative members take turns in sitting beside him to let him know who is speaking. Sometimes he doesn't remember people he has known for some time, though he recalls old friends almost as if by force of habit.

A man who sees him frequently said: "He is a very old man. He is really older than his years, when you think of all he has been through. It's all rather pathetic."

As far as is known, Sir Winston is not under treatment for any specific physical complaint.

"It's just Anno Domini," said one of Sir Winston's friends. "The old engine is wearing down. One doesn't like to think about it."

Sir Winston's willpower has often astounded those around him. Field Marshal Viscount Alanbrooke in his war memoirs, recently published, tells how he sometimes despaired of Churchill, finding him "old" and not able to give sustained attention to some topics. But he had great recuperative capacity.

There have been reports that Sir Winston has suffered one or two relapses in the last five years. He always comes back strongly, snorting furiously at those who want him to take things more easily.

He still makes public appearances. He spoke in the Oct. 8 election campaign in his riding of Woodford, Essex, and he attended old boys' night at his old public school, Harrow.

Within the last two or three days, he has seen Lord Beaverbrook, an old friend from First World War days.

It is believed he has stopped writing.

Sir Winston was well enough Wednesday to entertain Konrad Adenauer.

The two octogenarians drank champagne.

TIMES EDITOR RETURNS FROM FAR EAST TOUR

Times editor Bruce Hutchison, who has spent a month touring Japan at the invitation of the Japanese government, returned to Victoria Wednesday night following a direct Tokyo-Vancouver flight on Canadian Pacific Airlines.

Mr. Hutchison, accompanied by Mrs. Hutchison, also visited Hong Kong and Formosa.

His recent articles on the social aspects of his trip will be followed shortly by a series on the trade and political situation between Canada and Japan and the power strategy of Eastern Asia.

CCF 'Maverick' Free to Snipe

Burnaby CCF MLA Cedric Cox can "say what he likes and think what he likes" without censure by party leadership, provincial party leader Robert Strachan said today.

U.N. DEBATE ON HUNGARY

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — The General Assembly's steering committee was summoned today to meet Monday to decide on a new and full airing of the 1956 Hungarian revolution and its bloody suppression by the Soviet Army.

Diplomatic sources said it was a foregone conclusion that the steering committee would vote to put the Hungarian issue on the assembly's agenda, with only the Soviet bloc opposing the move.

NATO Chiefs Hope to Slow Soviet Drive

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The NATO parliamentarians conference unanimously approved today proposals aimed at countering the Soviet economic offensive and shoring up the free world's military unity.

Delegates from parliamentary bodies of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization adopted an economic program highlighted by a call for stepped-up aid to underdeveloped countries.

A group of resolutions proposed by a military committee were adopted, including one calling for a centralized system of aircraft detection and identification in Europe as "a matter of extreme urgency."

Merger 'Sure to Fail' Claims Liberal Chief

CRESTON, B.C. (CP) — Liberal leader Ray Perrault told a public meeting here Wednesday that a plan to "have union members pay most of the bills for CCF candidates in the next provincial election is sure to fail."

Mr. Perrault said the plan was "engineered by a minority group of politically ambitious trade union leaders and key men in CCF leadership."

He read letters which he claimed were from unionists who were opposed to financial support of the CCF.

He was commenting from Kelowna, where he is attending a B.C. Federation of Labor seminar, on reports that the CCF provincial executive would "investigate" recent remarks by Mr. Cox.

Mr. Cox said at Trail that the proposed new Labor-CCF party was "ill-conceived" and actually was opposed by 40 per cent of the current CCF membership.

Later, Mrs. Grace MacInnis, provincial president of the party, said the report of the remarks would be investigated.

FREE CITIZEN

"I don't know what is meant by 'investigate,'" said Mr. Strachan. "Naturally, the provincial executive is interested in what its members say."

"But Mr. Cox is a free citizen and he can say what he likes. The CCF would be the last group in the world to want to impose its thinking on any other person."

Mr. Strachan added, "In any democratic party, there is bound to be a difference of opinion when a proposal for reorganization comes up. But I think Mr. Cox completely misunderstands the true situation."

Mr. Cox has stated he felt it was doubtful the new party would succeed in its formation and he added:

"The only reason for this new party is that a lot of labor men are looking around for new ways to exercise some power."

Mrs. MacInnis expressed shock at Mr. Cox's "outburst." She said to oppose the new party is a case of "backward thinking."

B.H. Black, former president of the B.C. Federation of Labor (CLC), said Cox doesn't know what he is talking about.

S.A. Mediator Canada Role?

OTTAWA (CP) — Sydney Williams, executive secretary of the Canadian Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said today he is convinced the Canadian government plans to offer itself as a mediator in South Africa's racial problems.

NATO Cuts By France

PARIS (UPI) — The National Assembly adopted by voice vote today a 1960 military budget which indicated a possible further cut in French contributions to NATO forces in central Europe.

Times News Services

LONDON — West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today conceded that the German problem — and within it a Berlin settlement — could be discussed at an East-West summit conference.

He addressed a crowded press conference here before flying back to Bonn at the end of a three-day visit.

Before his series of talks with Prime Minister Macmillan, Adenauer was reported opposed to discussing Berlin at the summit. Macmillan believes it should be a major item at the conference.

The 82-year-old chancellor said the summit conference should certainly discuss self-determination for Communist East Germany.

PROBLEMS LINKED

Asked if he meant to exclude a Berlin agreement at the summit, Adenauer replied: "I did not mean that. I only meant that the final solution of the Berlin problem is intimately connected with the German problem as a whole."

He also announced he and Macmillan are in "complete agreement on the political aspects of disarmament."

The chancellor received a rousing send-off at London's Victoria station on his way by train to Gatwick airport outside the metropolis.

A crowd of 300 cheered as he was seen off by Macmillan and other British officials.

They also agreed he said that the present economic divisions in Europe must "in no circumstances" be allowed to lead to a trade war "which would be in sharp conflict with everything that has been done in recent years for the unification of a free western Europe and a free world."

Aside from any concrete decisions reached at the conference table, the chief achievement of the 83-year-old chancellor's visit was considered to be the end of cool relations between the two countries.

COLUMBIA R. HYDRO TALKS PLANNED HERE

OTTAWA (CP) — External Affairs Minister Green said today federal government officials will meet with British Columbia officials in Victoria in about two weeks for further discussion of hydro development plans on the Columbia River.

A joint ministerial committee exists to line up a united Canadian front for talks with the United States. Mr. Green and Resources Minister Alvin Hamilton are federal representatives on the committee.

LAW NEEDED?

Ex-GM Boss Grieves Loss Of Friend

FLINT, Mich. (UPI) — Harlow H. Curtice, tired-looking and grief-stricken, said today uneven ground might have caused the "tragic accident" in which he shot and killed his "very dear friend" retired GM vice-president Harry W. Anderson.

Curtice, who looked as if he had not slept at all since the accident Wednesday, said Anderson might have lost his footing on the uneven ground in "their duck blind" and lurched directly into Curtice's line of fire.

He said this was the eighth annual trip to the St. Anne Island duck-shooting preserve for him and Anderson.

The former GM president suggested that a law might be passed permitting only one gun in any hunting blind as a means of preventing another such tragedy.

Curtice said he had hunted many times over the past 30 years.

He said there had never been an accident in any hunting party of which he was a member.

He said he had been a "very close friend and associate of Anderson for more than a quarter of a century and Mrs. Curtice is at Ann Arbor today with Mrs. Anderson."

Steel Union Rejects New Wage Offer

Hopes Dwindle For Settlement

(Times News Services)

PITTSBURGH — The U.S. major steel companies announced a new proposal for settlement of their bitter contract dispute with the United Steelworkers today but the union promptly rejected it.

The USW action virtually doomed voluntary settlement of the history-making controversy during the 80-day truce ordered by the U.S. Supreme Court in the 116-day walkout of 500,000 USW members.

The companies proposed an economic package which it estimated would cost them 30 cents an hour per man over a three-year period.

They coupled it with a plan of negotiation and arbitration for settlement of the thorny local working conditions issue, which appeared the chief stumbling block in the road of settlement.

The union in a formal statement said the industry proposal was made Nov. 15 and turned down the same day.

The new proposal, the union said, represents virtually no change from the proposition the company made last Oct. 17. That offer was rejected by the full wage policy committee.

The union estimated the latest offer as being worth about 24 cents an hour over the three-year period. It estimated the previous offer at 23.8 cents an hour.

The statement continued: "... They still are insisting upon a one-sided and unfair arbitration designed to permit them unilaterally to eliminate jobs and benefits won by the steelworkers in their contracts for many years."

"The only changes are a 'stay' of the sentence until June, 1960, and some additional language which makes it clear that even before that their objective is to eliminate jobs and workers..."

SANTA GOOFED PRINCESS FOR REAL

LONDON (AP) — "And what is your name?" the afternoon-shift Santa Claus at a London store asked the curly-haired little girl before him Wednesday.

"Princess Anne," she replied.

"Oh, yes," boomed Santa in his good-natured voice, "and I'm Father Christmas."

Five seconds went by before Santa realized he had goofed—the name and title had just fallen mechanically on his tired ears.

"Of course you are," said the nine-year-old Princess, ending the embarrassing silence.

Santa recovered and asked her what she wanted for Christmas.

Anne stood on tiptoe and detailed her requirements into Santa's ear.

Santa nodded and said "I'll see what I can do."

When the waiter came, it already was too late, Doyle said.

"You read about things like this and you're supposed to do them," Doyle said. "I guess I did. My wife kept giving me instructions. I whacked the baby on the back, she cried, and I knew everything was all right."

Mother and daughter were taken by ambulance to the hospital where both are doing fine, Doyle thinks he may name the newcomer Calamity.

BABY ROCKS THE CLUB

CHICAGO (AP) — A red-haired baby girl was born Wednesday in the Union League Club, an ultra-conservative men's retreat which women may enter only if accompanied by their husbands. It never happened before in the club's 80-year history.

The event was set in motion Monday when Robert F. Doyle, 44, and his wife, Helen, 42, travelled from their home in Loves Park, a suburb of Rockford, Ill., to Passavant Hospital in Chicago for the expected arrival of their seventh child.

"The doctor said it wasn't time," Doyle recalled. "My wife went back Tuesday. 'Come back Wednesday,' the doctor said."

So Doyle, president of a Consumer Finance Company and a club member, took his wife to the Union League Club Tuesday night.

It happened as the Doyles were leisurely dressing Wednesday morning. They had ordered breakfast in their room.

Disorder, Anger and Frustration in Long Wait for Justice

By HUMPHRY DAVY
The city's health and welfare centre at 1947 Cook was as active as a circus Wednesday. But the atmosphere was one of annoyance and despair. The high ceiling vestibule and the narrow hallways flanked by neat but small cell-like offices were jammed with parents and youngsters of all ages, some sitting, but mostly standing.

Waiting 2 Hours
Some of the grown-ups looked tired and weary. They had been waiting for more than two hours for their names to be called. The youngsters, bored with their restricted surroundings, fidgeted and squirmed in their chairs or milled about aimlessly in the halls.

"Sit down, Johnny," snapped a mother.
Johnny was busily trying to reach a light bulb.
She was only one of many weary mothers at the centre. The only happy looking couple was a boy and girl who sat quietly spooning in a corner, apparently not missing a half-day away from school.

Skipping School
Everyone questioned agreed that it was time a proper juvenile and family court was set-up for the Greater Victoria area.

They had good reasons to be irritated at the present system of administering juvenile cases. The majority of youngsters who were up for minor traffic violations were missing a half-day of school. Parents were losing working hours. A parent's whole day was being disrupted because of the lack of an efficient juvenile court system.

Lost Half Pay
As one man pointed out, a motorist charged with speeding paid less in time and money for his traffic offence when he was called to police court.

JAYCEES MAKE PRESSURE PLEA FOR IMMEDIATE FAMILY COURT

A resolution urging immediate establishment of a unified family and juvenile court was passed by Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce Wednesday night to increase pressure on municipalities.

Brian Small, chairman of the Jaycee's government and civic affairs committee, said the resolutions were put forward because Oak Bay and Esquimalt have shown a lack of enthusiasm for the proposed court.

"There's too much waiting here," he said. "I've lost half a day's wages for a boy who rode a bicycle without a lamp. It is obvious that the court can't handle all the juvenile cases in Victoria in one day of the week."

A former RCAF disciplinarian said he never realized the need for a juvenile court until his son was summoned to appear in court for a minor traffic violation.

Missed Her Boat
"These youngsters are not criminals," he said. "There should be a more efficient way of dealing with them." One mother from Salt Spring Island waited so long for her family case to be heard that she missed her boat and was faced with over-night expenses in Victoria.

Meanwhile, in one of the building's larger offices sat juvenile judge J. A. Byers swamped with files dealing with minor offenders from Victoria. His task is to cram as much work as he can between the hours of 2 and 5 p.m.

There is little he can do to speed up the process of administration. He has no control over the number of cases to be heard in a day. Parents would have to wait.

A juvenile officer explained that no judge could be expected to run through 50 cases in a matter of minutes.

More Efficient
The answer is a family court which would sit four or five days a week for the whole of the Greater Victoria area," he said. "The cases could then be spread out and dealt with more efficiently."

A lawyer also noted that a proper family court would also permit the centralization of files. This would ease the task of preparing cases for a court hearing.
"Some hearings have to be postponed because juvenile officers haven't the facilities to prepare their cases in time," he said. "The delays can't be helped under the present system. It's beyond the control of judge and officers."

WOMAN CHEATS DEATH

'Thank Heaven Boy Was Home'

Officer to Rescue As Car Takes Dive

A Victoria naval officer's wife miraculously escaped death Wednesday afternoon when the car she was driving plunged off the RCN fueling jetty into 35 feet of water in Esquimalt harbor.

Extraordinary good luck plus fast thinking and action by another navy officer saved the life of Mrs. Mary Locke, wife of Lt.-Cmdr. Maurice M. Locke, 982 Darwin, engineering officer of the destroyer escort HMCS Margaree.

But her greatest gratitude today was that her youngest boy, two-year-old Gregory, was not in the car when it went off the jetty.

"Thank heaven I left him at home," she said. "Almost invariably, I take him with me wherever I go. But for some reason, I didn't take him yesterday."

Mrs. Locke explained she had accompanied her husband to join his ship at the fueling jetty on the Colwood side of Esquimalt Harbor.

"SKIDDED OR SOMETHING"
"Maurice drove to the ship and turned the car around so it faced toward the land," she said. "I waited until he went aboard, then started the car and suddenly — I don't know what happened — it skidded or something — and it went over the side."

She said the door on her side of the car, a recent station wagon model, flew open and she hit the water.

The only witness to the accident was Lt. Robert Duston who had the duty watch on Margaree at the time. He sprinted down the gangway of the ship to the jetty, shedding his jacket as he did.

"I splashed around in the water and then I saw Bob on the jetty," Mrs. Locke said. "He called to me to hang on, then he jumped in, only a few feet from me. It was just one stroke by him, and one by me, and he had hold of me."

"He towed me to the bumper logs, and we held on, and in a short time — just seconds, I think — a boat came and picked us up."

The boat was the 46-foot RCN harborcraft YFP 12, operated by Harold Raybone. It was moored at another jetty about 700 feet away, and cast off immediately Mr. Raybone heard cries for help.

"SO QUICKLY"
"It all happened so quickly," Mrs. Locke said. "Bob and I were walking up the jetty before Maurice got off the ship."

The navy ambulance arrived minutes later, and Mrs. Locke was taken to Royal Jubilee Hospital. She was released after examination.

"I wasn't hurt, I didn't even swallow any water, but the reaction was awful," Mrs. Locke said. "I feel worse this morning than last night, especially when I think of what might have happened to Gregory if he had been with me."

10-FOOT DROP
One of the series of "lucky breaks" which kept Mrs. Locke unharmed was the fact the accident occurred at high tide, with a drop of only about 10 feet from the jetty floor to the water.

The automobile was raised from 35 feet of water in less than half an hour by a navy diving team consisting of PO Jim Connolly, PO William Fenn and AB Mervyn MacDonald, all of the clearance diving unit at HMCS Naden.

There is need for "more imagination" in Victoria's tourist attractions, says world-traveller John Martin of Victoria Automobile Club.

"At present we are attracting plenty of visitors with our natural scenic beauties. But this is a competitive age and in a few years' time we will have to provide more novelties if we are going to hold our place in the tourist field."

Here are a few of Mr. Martin's ideas for brightening Victoria as a tourist centre:
A Japanese garden and tea room near Fisherman's Wharf with junks to take visitors across from the Inner Harbor.

Overhead cable cars (such as are now operated at Banff) to take sightseers over the Sooke Hills.

A planetarium (indoor astronomical display) at Beacon Hill Park.

TEA GARDEN AT LAKE
A tea garden and swimming pool at Thetis Lake.

Mr. Martin, who has travelled widely in Europe, says many small cities, with less financial resources than Victoria, have used considerable ingenuity in devising tourist novelties.

"It is not enough for us to squeeze every dollar we can out of our tourists and take it for granted they will come back."

"We must be prepared to invest some of these dollars in the future."

Smith Re-Elected Liberal President.
Sidney C. Smith has been re-elected president of the Victoria Association by acclamation. It was announced today.

Harvie J. Dorrance was named first vice-president, and Mrs. H. L. MacKenzie second vice-president.

Elected secretary was Arthur H. Cox. J. D. Maltman was named treasurer.

'Mail Order' Nomination In Saanich

A mail ballot bearing the names of three nominees has been distributed to all members of the Saanich CCF Association and naming of a candidate in the forthcoming provincial election takes place Friday, Dec. 4.

Nominees are Stanley A. Murphy, school teacher and Saanich councillor; Patrick H. Thomas, high school teacher and candidate in Oak Bay in the last provincial election; and J. B. Windsor, former Central Saanich councillor, library board member and member of the intermunicipal committee. Blind, Mr. Windsor is a noted writer.

Ballots will be counted and candidate named at a meeting in Douglas Hall, Douglas Street, Dec. 4, when provincial party leader Robert Strachan will be guest speaker.

Victoria CCF Association will hold its nominating meeting Monday night at Woodsworth Hall on Courtney Street.

Wild Sweep Made By Careening Car; Driver Escapes

At least one Ross Bay resident awoke to the crash of crumpling fenders at dawn today when a car swept wildly out of control over boulevards, a fire hydrant, tree and fence on Hollywood Crescent between St. Charles and Passmore.

The car, driven by its owner Keith G. Thornber, 414 Heather, was totally wrecked, police said.

Mrs. John A. Small, 1600 Hollywood, said she "woke with a start about 5 a.m. and ran to the front window. I heard him hitting everything but I couldn't see much then. It was just coming light."

Police said Thornber's car went east on Dallas where it becomes Hollywood Crescent, mounted the southeast curb at St. Charles and struck a fire hydrant 39 feet east of the intersection.

The car continued in a northeast direction, mounted the north curb of Hollywood and crashed 105 feet east through the front yards of 1624 and 1630 Hollywood where it knocked over the tree and part of a fence.

It finally stopped on the east side of Passmore 100 feet north of Hollywood, where the driver emerged unhurt.

ASK THE TIMES

Q. Does the premier receive two salaries for being premier as well as finance minister? A.M.

A. No. He is paid only as premier.

Q. Will you tell me the dates of provincial elections from 1920 to 1932 and the names of B.C. premiers for the same period? E.C.

A. Election dates were Dec. 1, 1920; June 20, 1924; July 18, 1928 — the next election was Nov. 2, 1933. Premiers during this period were H. C. Brewster, John Oliver, John Duncan Macleod and Simon Fraser Tolmie.

... HERE AND THERE ...

With NORMAN CRIBBENS

British immigrant Herbert L. Ford suggests we should have replicas of the Crown Jewels on view in the Legislative Buildings since so many U.S. tourists ask to see the originals when they come here.

"These replicas are available to exhibitions in Britain," he says.

The idea has been passed to provincial archivist Willard Ireland.

Seeking a quiet room at the quiet Empress Hotel, a French-Canadian lady tripped daintily up to the reception desk and smiled sweetly at the receptionist. Alas, she could not think of the English word for "quiet," so asked for "a room" and then poked a finger in each ear.

It worked like a charm—and reminded me of the time I went into a small cafe in France, soon after the war, in search of strong tea. I could not think of the French word for "strong," so asked for "le tay" and vigorously flexing the muscle of my right arm said: "Like this!"

The result was alarming. They all went into shrieks of laughter and the waitress fairly sobbed because monsieur was so funny! But I got my strong tea.

Mrs. Alice Mortimore of the Victoria branch, Canadian National Institute for the Blind, has discovered that the abbreviation CNIB can be dangerous.

Addressing a convention in New York recently, she made frequent references to the CNIB.

Afterwards a lady in the audience stood up and asked: "Just what is this CNIB? I've heard of seen' eye dogs but this is the first time I've ever heard of a seen' eye bee!"

Off to Worthington, Minnesota, next Tuesday goes Rev. Richard J. Welsh, vicar of St. David's-by-the-Sea, Cordova Bay, for the past two years.

Mr. Welsh, a former member of the legislative press gallery, has been appointed minister of the Episcopal Church of St. John-on-the-Lake at Worthington—about 700 miles from here—and will also look after the neighboring parish of Luverne.

"I hate leaving the Island but frankly there is more opportunity for clergymen in the United States," he said.

NAVAL SHIP MOVEMENTS

Fortune, Cowichan, Miramichi, James Bay return 2:30 p.m. Dec. 3.

New Glasgow, Antigonish return Friday.

Assiniboine returns Sunday.

Fraser, Margaree return Tuesday.

FORMER VICTORIA OFFICER, Lt.-Col. Alfred G. Hood, RCA, has been appointed general staff officer in the directorate of militia and cadets at army headquarters in Ottawa. His previous appointment was assistant adjutant and quartermaster general at Saskatchewan area headquarters in Regina.

A $10,000 bequest has been left to Mountain View Home by a former Victorian. Residue of the estate of the late D. A. N. Ogilvy reverts to the home since the death of his only survivor recently.

But finance committee was told today that the city would have to seek court "clarification" of the will because the city-owned home for aged men is not a legal entity.

A group of Victoria life underwriters will receive "graduation certificates" tonight at the Victoria Life Underwriters' Association public relations supper and dance in the Sirroco Club.

BUT WHAT SHE SAW JUST WASN'T THERE

Mrs. Myrtle Hodgkinson, 3340 Cumberland, is in an "embarrassed" but reflective mood today.

She looked out her kitchen window this morning and saw flames "three or four feet high" inside a window in a neighbor's home across the way.

Promptly, she telephoned Saanich firemen. They arrived, with two trucks and the fire chief. Police also showed up.

"I knew the people worked all day, and there was no home, so I felt I had to take action," said Mrs. Hodgkinson. But there was no house fire. It was a clear reflection of a neighbor's incinerator fire.

"I felt so embarrassed," said Mrs. Hodgkinson. Firemen feel she did the right thing.

Former archbishop of Montreal, Joseph Charbonneau, 67, died this afternoon in St. Joseph's Hospital.

He came here from Montreal nine years ago, and since 1957 had suffered recurring heart attacks.

The archbishop was operated on last month for what was described as an acute abdominal condition.

Crippled Ship Towed Into Scotland

PORTSOY, Scotland. (AP) — The disabled Dutch coaster Geziens Henderika reached port at the end of a towline today after a 24-hour pounding in raging seas off northeast Scotland.

With nine men and a woman aboard and its steering gear smashed, the 494-ton vessel was brought into Inverness harbor by the British trawler Dunkin.

New Violence Feared In N. Ireland

BELFAST (Reuters) — The outlawed Irish Republican Army is preparing to launch a new wave of terrorist violence in Northern Ireland next month.

The reports came as the British government announced it has promised to give its "urgent consideration" to concern expressed here at the possibility of winter attacks by the IRA, pledged to reunite Northern and Southern Ireland.

Spouting Lava Breaks Plane Window

HONOLULU (AP) — Kilauea volcano became violent today, spouted lava 1,000 feet, and drove spectators away.

Lava was hurled with such force that a piece of rock cracked a windshield on a plane circling above.

Freighter Crew Strikes at Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Greek crew of a Panamanian freighter loading grain here went on strike today over what they said were "hellish conditions."

Vancouver longshoremen respected the sailors picket line and refused to load the ship.

New York Excursion Boat In Distress

NEW YORK (AP) — An excursion boat, the Queen Ida, was reported in distress today in the East River off mid-Manhattan.

There was no immediate indication how many passengers were aboard, or the nature of the trouble.

CCF 'Maverick' Free to Snipe

Burnaby CCF MLA Cedric Cox can "say what he likes and think what he likes" without censure by party leadership, provincial party leader Robert Strachan said today.

He was commenting from Kelowna, where he is attending a B.C. Federation of Labor seminar, on reports that the CCF provincial executive would "investigate" recent remarks by Mr. Cox.

Mr. Cox said at Trail that the proposed new Labor-CCF party was "ill-conceived" and actually was opposed by 40 per cent of the current CCF membership.

Later, Mrs. Grace MacInnis, provincial president of the party, said the report of the remarks would be investigated.

FREE CITIZEN

"I don't know what is meant by 'investigate'," said Mr. Strachan. "Naturally, the provincial executive is interested in what its members say."

"But Mr. Cox is a free citizen and he can say what he likes. The CCF would be the last group in the world to want to impose its thinking on any other person."

Mr. Strachan added, "In any democratic party, there is bound to be a difference of opinion when a proposal for reorganization comes up. But I think Mr. Cox completely misunderstands the true situation."

Mr. Cox has stated he felt it was doubtful the new party would succeed in its formation and he added:

"The only reason for this new party is that a lot of labor men are looking around for new ways to exercise some power."

Mrs. MacInnis expressed shock at Mr. Cox's "outburst." She said to oppose the new party is a case of "backward thinking."

Bill Black, former president of the B.C. Federation of Labor (CLC), said Mr. Cox doesn't know that he is talking about.

TIMES EDITOR RETURNS FROM FAR EAST TOUR

Times editor Bruce Hutchison, who has spent a month touring Japan at the invitation of the Japanese government, returned to Victoria Wednesday night following a direct Tokyo-Vancouver flight on Canadian Pacific Airlines.

SANTA GOOFED PRINCESS FOR REAL

LONDON (AP) — "And what is your name?" the afternoon-shift Santa Claus at a London store asked the curly-haired little girl before him Wednesday.

"Princess Anne," she replied.

"Oh, yes," boomed Santa in his good-natured voice, "and I'm Father Christmas."

Five seconds went by before Santa realized he had goofed—

the name and title had just fallen mechanically on his tired ears.

"Of course you are," said the nine-year-old Princess, ending the embarrassing silence.

Santa recovered and asked her what she wanted for Christmas.

Anne stood on tiptoe and detailed her requirements into Santa's ear.

Santa nodded and said "I'll see what I can do."

LAW NEEDED?

Ex-GM Boss Grieves Loss Of Friend

FLINT, Mich. (UPI) — Harlow H. Curtice, tired-looking and grief-stricken, said today uneven ground might have caused the "tragic accident" in which he shot and killed his "very dear friend" retired GM vice-president Harry W. Anderson.

Curtice, who looked as if he had not slept at all since the accident Wednesday, said Anderson might have lost his footing on the uneven ground in their duck blind and lurched directly into Curtice's line of fire.

He said this was the eighth annual trip to the St. Anne Island duck-shooting preserve for him and Anderson.

The former GM president suggested that a law might be passed permitting only one gun in any hunting blind as a means of preventing another such tragedy.

Curtice said he had hunted many times over the past 30 years.

He said there had never been an accident in any hunting party of which he was a member.

He said he had been a "very close friend and associate of Anderson for more than a quarter of a century and Mrs. Curtice is at Ann Arbor today with Mrs. Anderson."

Merger 'Sure to Fail'

Claims Liberal Chief

CRESTON, B.C. (CP) — Liberal leader Ray Perrault told a public meeting here Wednesday that a plan to have union members pay most of the bills for CCF candidates in the next provincial election is sure to fail.

Mr. Perrault said the plan was "engineered by a minority group of politically ambitious trade union leaders and key men in CCF leadership."

He read letters which he claimed were from unionists who were opposed to financial support of the CCF.

UNION REBUFFS
NEW STEEL OFFER

Hopes Dwindle For Settlement

(Times News Services)

PITTSBURGH — The U.S. major steel companies announced a new proposal for settlement of their bitter contract dispute with the United Steelworkers today, but the union promptly rejected it.

The USW action virtually doomed voluntary settlement of the history-making controversy during the 80-day truce ordered by the U.S. Supreme Court in the 116-day walkout of 500,000 USW members.

The companies proposed an economic package which it estimated would cost them 30 cents an hour per man over a three-year period.

They coupled it with a plan of negotiation and arbitration for settlement of the thorny local working conditions issue, which appeared the chief stumbling block in the road of settlement.

The union in a formal statement said the industry proposal was made Nov. 15 and turned down the same day.

The new proposal, the union said, represents virtually no change from the proposition the company made last Oct. 17. That offer was rejected by the full wage policy committee.

The union estimated the latest offer as being worth about 24 cents an hour over the three-year period. It estimated the previous offer at 23.8 cents an hour.

'A Fair Offer of What Can Be Done'

In disclosing the latest offer, R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry negotiator, said in a prepared statement:

"The proposal is a fair offer to do what can be done and still keep within non-inflationary bounds in the cost of steel production."

The union statement said: "The only difference between this latest company offer and the earlier offers is a small pension improvement which the union actuary estimates is worth less than one-third of one cent."

Referring to the industry's proposals on local work conditions, the union said the latest offer is the "same old attempt to deprive steelworkers of hard-won gains and protections."

The statement continued: "... They still are insisting upon a one-sided and unfair arbitration designed to permit them unilaterally to eliminate jobs and benefits won by the steelworkers in their contracts for many years."

"The only changes are a 'stay' of the sentence until June, 1960, and some additional language which makes it clear that even before that their objective is to eliminate jobs and workers..."

NOVEMBER BLOSSOMS! WHY NOT?

Snubbing the calendar and blossoming whenever they get up the urge, Japanese cherry trees on Southgate and Robertson Streets today are getting in a silent but effective plug for city's temperate climate. And experts say they could bloom again before Christmas. Ronnie Satterfield, 3, of 166 Robertson, poses with blooms which gladden hearts of city boosters.

Adenauer Agrees Summit Should Discuss Germany

Times News Services

LONDON — West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today conceded that the German problem — and within it a Berlin settlement — could be discussed at an East-West summit conference.

He addressed a crowded press conference here before flying back to Bonn at the end of a three-day visit.

Before his series of talks with Prime Minister Macmillan, Adenauer was reported opposed to discussing Berlin at the summit. Macmillan believed it should be a major item at the conference.

The 83-year-old chancellor said the present economic divisions in Europe must "in no economic circumstances" be allowed to lead to a trade war "which would be in sharp conflict with everything that has been done in recent years for the unification of a free western Europe and a free world."

He also announced he and Macmillan are in "complete agreement on the political aspects of disarmament."

The chancellor received a rousing send-off at London's Victoria station on his way by train to Gatwick airport outside the metropolis.

A crowd of 300 cheered repeatedly as he was seen off by Macmillan and other British officials.

They also agreed, he said, that the present economic divisions in Europe must "in no economic circumstances" be allowed to lead to a trade war "which would be in sharp conflict with everything that has been done in recent years for the unification of a free western Europe and a free world."

Aside from any concrete decisions reached at the conference table, the chief achievement of the 83-year-old chancellor's visit was considered to be the end of cool relations between the two countries.

U.N. DEBATE ON HUNGARY

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — The General Assembly's steering committee was summoned today to meet Monday to decide on a new and full airing of the 1956 Hungarian revolution and its bloody suppression by the Soviet Army.

Diplomatic sources said it was a foregone conclusion that the steering committee would vote to put the Hungarian issue on the assembly's agenda, with only the Soviet bloc opposing the move.

BABY ROCKS THE CLUB

CHICAGO (AP) — A red-haired baby girl was born Wednesday in the Union League Club, an ultra-conservative men's retreat which women may enter only if accompanied by their husbands. It never happened before in the club's 80-year history.

The event was set in motion Monday when Robert F. Doyle, 44, and his wife, Helen, 42, travelled from their home in Loves Park, a suburb of Rockford, Ill., to Passavant Hospital in Chicago for the ex-

'Winnie' Fading But Fights Back

By ALAN HARVEY

LONDON (CP) — Sir Winston Churchill was described today as "restored to health" after an indisposition.

His secretary, Anthony Montagu-Browne, told a reporter:

"He's better now. He's all right. I'm afraid I can't give you any more details than that."

Obviously, age is beginning to tell on the old warrior. He will be 85 on his next birthday, Nov. 30. He is almost completely deaf and he gets about with some difficulty.

But the powerful will that has often triumphed over frailties of the body keeps driving him, and he makes occasional appearances in the House of Commons.

Conservative members take turns in sitting beside him to let him know who is speaking. Sometimes he doesn't remember people he has known for some time, though he recalls old friends almost as if by force of habit.

A man who sees him frequently said: "He is a very old man. He is really older than his years, when you think of all he's been through. It's all rather pathetic."

As far as is known, Sir Winston is not under treatment for any specific physical complaint.

"It's just Anno Domini," said one of Sir Winston's friends. "The old engine is wearing down. One doesn't like to think about it."
